Battle Over Gorsuch Confirmation Is Set to Hit Senate Floor

An unusual move from New Yorkr vote the confirmation of Supreme Court nominee Neil Gorsuch. Democrats have vowed to block Gorsuch's confirmation by filibuster. Republicans need 60 votes to end a filibuster and allow a vote on the nomination. Gorsuch, 49 years old, would be the youngest justice on the high court, if he is confirmed. Gorsuch's nomination is the result of a blockade by Senate Republicans of President Obama's nominee, Merrick Garland, who was nominated to succeed Justice Antonin Scalia, who died in February 2016. Gorsuch
