Senate Braces for Fight Over Supreme Court Pick Gorsuch

The Trump Administration Prepares for a Fight Over Supreme Court Nominee

Senate Democrats will use their procedural leverage to force Republicans to vote on Supreme Court nominee Neil Gorsuch, a move that could trigger a showdown over the nuclear option. Gorsuch's nomination is seen as a test of how Republicans will treat President Trump's high court picks, with other nominees also sure to face Democratic opposition. Gorsuch's record suggests he would be a conservative jurist in the mold of his mentor, the late Justice Antonin Scalia.
