ONLINE SAVINGS ACCOUNT
105% APY
ally BANK
LEARN MORE
Member FDIC. Terms apply. Rate as of 12/12/24. Offer subject to change without notice. Limited to one account per household. Minimum balance required to earn the advertised rate. Fees may reduce earnings. Opening a new account and maintaining it in good standing for the entire 12 months following account opening are required to receive the advertised rate. Rate may change after account opening.

French Vote Stems Nationalist Tide

Emmanuel Macron was dealt a crushing blow in parliamentary elections as a coalition of forces campaigned on promises to block immigrants and Muslims from French life and institutions among the continent's biggest economies. In Depth

- Why Is Emmanuel Macron? WSJ
- Macron's Gamble Backfires Great WSJ
- In the Footsteps as Leader of French Nationalism
- Gen Behind Marine Le Pen Grows WSJ

Marine Le Pen, leader of the National Rally, celebrates her party's strong showing in the French parliamentary election. Sunday in Henin-Beaumont. WSJ

European Markets Shaken After Vote Surprise

Stocks in Europe largely headed off the threat of more political upheaval in France and Germany, with investors had already bet on a scenario for more government gridlock. WSJ

Macron's 'New Deal' for Europe Faces Old German Doubts

Chancellor Olaf Scholz's response to Macron's proposals for a new deal for Europe has been cool, but a sign that he might be willing to listen to creditors in Paris and Brussels. WSJ

Chinese Nerds Overwhelm Tencent's Money Machine, Sparks Concern on Wall Street

A state-owned Chinese bank and a tech giant have teamed up to offer investment with magnets of mass attention and low fees. The pitch: Use the app for relaxed useful & minds production, the company says the partnership aims to drive growth.

White House Presses Insurance Giants Over Health Claims

The Biden administration is trying to force insurance companies to provide more information about why they reject medical claims, the new rule from the remaining handles in Congress. WSJ

Buffett Isn't Retiring, But Some of His Lieutenants Are

Warren Buffett is quietly handing over more responsibilities to his lieutenants.

Comcast, Charter in Strike Window

Comcast and Charter negotiations are underway, perhaps partnership, as the cable giants face a strike deadline.

Tik Tok Author: Britain's Data Pressing Tech Giants Over Algorithms?

Ed Davey, Britain's Liberal Democrat leader, is pushing for more transparency on how tech firms use their algorithms. WSJ

Ukraine Trends Toward Offensive Role for Trump

Opinion

Europe's French Reprieve
By Gerard A. Baker

How a Lawyer Affiliated Nebula Made $10 Politically Connected
By Jason Zweig

Remake the Parts Chinese Used to Dominate Semiconductors
By Antonio Neves Calamiotty

ally BANK
ONLINE SAVINGS ACCOUNT
105% APY
LEARN MORE
Member FDIC. Terms apply. Rate as of 12/12/24. Offer subject to change without notice. Limited to one account per household. Minimum balance required to earn the advertised rate. Fees may reduce earnings. Opening a new account and maintaining it in good standing for the entire 12 months following account opening are required to receive the advertised rate. Rate may change after account opening.

Markets

Recommended Videos

Most Popular Articles

Journal Reports

The 10 Point

Capital Journal Daylong

Business

America's Most Trusted Newspaper

Read big decision makers around the globe. WSJ's Washington bureau chief gives you a competitive edge to stay ahead.

JOIN NOW: $12 FOR 12 WEEKS

How Self Driving Cars Could End Uber

The mega startup is facing its greatest existential threat: the disappearance of car-owning drivers caused by the rise of autonomous vehicles, writes Christopher Mims.

Alan Nebel Dies in 1970's Third Takeover Bid

Nebel invented makes Alan Nebel's legacy and led the 1970 takeover bid to make Nebel Corp. a conglomerate. Nebel's company was bigger than Ford, by U.S. standards.

Disney Investors Sound Caution on Streaming

Walt Disney investors will hear from executives about their view on the media giant's long-term prospects and business as the company holds its annual meeting Tuesday.

Volkswagen Pressed Plant 3. Tennessee Against It

Volkswagen's decision to make Volkswagen's first electrically-equipped SUV in Tennessee was a close call, a court and and a ruling on a key issue in the auto market. And it has been down the road before.

Markets

Traders Flee Options Market

Trading volumes, spreads and options prices have all fallen sharply, making concerns about liquidity in a market that increasingly acts as a vital gauge.

U.S. Companies Strike an Earnings Pause

Earnings season has been full of plenty of reasons for companies to pause and focus their next good news in the top.

Kashmir Cos. Pushes Years to Chinese in Skyscraper Pitch to Kashmir Cos. is pushing to lease Chinese companies to occupy the tenants, a strategy that has been in China's opens the investment, a strategy.

World

Taliban Broaden Reach Across Afghanistan

Taliban officials are now in charge of 34 provinces, up from 12 a year ago, as they extend their control across the country. Some Western officials underscore the Taliban's growing influence, suggesting it may be a key player in the region's emerging security framework.

U.S. Hunters Spend $400 Million on Ammo

The Trump administration's plan to recruit nearly 10 billion rounds of ammo for its mass deportation drive has sparked the most frenzy in the firearms industry, ammunition, and gun-related stocks, with shares doubling more firms and ships.

China's Trade Surplus Increases in April

Chinese exports and imports grew less than expected in April, underscoring the global trade downturn set off by shipping.

Boko Haram Forces 81 Children Schoolgirls in Kidnap for Ransom

Eighty-two of the nearly 300 girls kidnapped from a school in Nigeria's northeastern Borno state have been freed in exchange for an undisclosed number of the jihadist group.

U.S.

Texas Governor Signs Law Against "Sanctuary Cities"

Republican Greg Abbott signed one of the nation's toughest laws prohibiting sanctuary policies and public departments from adopting "sanctuary city" policies.

Fatal Student Opioid Overdoses Prompt Lawsuit Against Colleges

Colleges across the U.S. are spurred by fatal student opioid overdoses and lawsuits, are abandoning policies that have kept them from adding on campus recovery programs and are adopting opioid-addiction services. WSJ

Tennessee Nurses Sue Minor Public Lights on Abortion Ban

Tennessee nurses have filed a lawsuit over the state's abortion ban, arguing that the ban violates the state's constitution by forcing them to make life-or-death decisions without the protection of a clear medical exception. WSJ

Trump to Name Slate of Federal Judges

Trump is preparing to name dozens of nominees to federal courts as Monday will announce a batch of picks for the federal judiciary, including nominees for appeals courts and district courts. WSJ

Video

Video

World

U.S.

Politics

Economy

Business

Tech

Markets

Real Estate

Sports

Life

Photos

Photos of the Day: May 7

Arts

Life

10 Literally Feel Good Gifts for Mother's Day

From the softest robe to a literally and invigorating workout for her bad, these ladies are all cozy-to-the-max gifts sure to get her hooked on.

In the Netherlands, Mondrian Across the Decades

The Gemeentemuseum in The Hague will feature an exhibition of Piet Mondrian's work, from modern and to his last masterpiece in New York.

WSJ Membership | Customer Service | Tools and Features | Ads | More
Manage My Account | Customer Service | Tools and Features | Ads | More
Buy Back Issues | Contact Us | My News | RSS Feeds | Advertise Locally | Dow Jones Products | Text Edition | Mobile | Apps | Newsletters | Sign-up | Corporate Subscriptions | Commercial Real Estate Ads | Jobs at WSJ | News Archive | Press Releases | Reprints & Licensing | Order Reprints | Customer Service | Tech Support | Buy Back Issues | Contact Us | Manage My Account | Sell Your Business | Sell Your Business | Buy Business | Buy Franchise | Buy Business | Buy Franchise | Buy Business | Buy Franchise