

The Washington Post

Democracy Dies in Darkness

Fake

Judge blocks Trump order to withhold federal money from ‘sanctuary cities’

A federal judge dealt the Trump administration yet another legal blow in a ruling that halted President Trump's threat to withhold federal funding from cities and towns that refuse to cooperate with immigration authorities. Judge William Orrick called the order broad and vague.

By Maria Sacchetti

White House, GOP lawmakers said to be nearing a health-care deal with the Freedom Caucus

At least three leaders in the hard-line caucus have reportedly signaled they are ready to support a revised health plan that would allow states to opt out of some insurance regulations in the Affordable Care Act. But there is no text of the new bill yet, and it is unclear how much widespread support the proposal has in the House.

By Robert Costa and Paige Winfield Cunningham

GOP offers plan to avert shutdown without border wall, but Trump vows that it will be built

The new budget offer includes increases in border security and defense spending, including money for repairs to existing fencing and new surveillance technology to patrol the nearly 2,000-mile border.

By Kelsey Snell and Ed O'Keefe

President Trump holds up a signed executive order designed to help farmers and ranchers. (European Pressphoto Agency)

Trump scrambles to show progress as the 100-day mark approaches

A private reception for conservative media. A tariff on some lumber imports from Canada. A new executive order. The planned roll-out of a tax plan. While President Trump has called Saturday's 100-day marker an "artificial" construct, a whirlwind of activity from the West Wing in recent days reveals a White House eager to cross the threshold with some tangible wins.

By Ashley Parker, Philip Rucker and Sean Sullivan

Ann Coulter to speak at public plaza at Berkeley, raising concerns about possible violence

University officials are bracing for massive protests after the conservative commentator said she intends to speak Thursday at Sproul Plaza — the sprawling space at the center of the California campus that has been the site of demonstrations for decades.

By Susan Svrluga and William Wan

Opinions

Julian Assange: The CIA director is waging war on truth-tellers like WikiLeaks

First 100 Days
What the other Washington thinks of President Trump

By Daniel Lee

Apparently repealing Obamacare could violate international law

By Dana Milbank

Dealmaker in Chief? More like the Backdown President.

By Kathleen Parker

Mattis and Trump: The odd couple that works

By David Ignatius

The Trump administration's magical thinking on taxes would bust the budget

Editorial Board

More Top Stories

Doctor at center of USA Gymnastics sex abuse scandal left warning signs at Michigan State

More than 100 women have filed criminal complaints against Larry Nassar, who had been a celebrity of sports medicine.

By Will Hobson

Trump ramps up rhetoric against Canada, calling country's trade policies 'very rough' on the U.S.

In a sharp pivot from his earlier criticism of China and Mexico for their trade practices, President Trump suggested Canada's benign image was deceptive.

By Caitlin Dewey

Flynn probably broke law by failing to disclose foreign income, House Oversight leaders say

Committee chairman Jason Chaffetz and ranking Democrat Elijah E. Cummings said they believe Michael Flynn neither received permission nor fully disclosed income he earned for a speaking engagement in Russia and lobbying activities on behalf of Turkey when he applied to reinstate his security clearance.

By Karoun Demirjian

White House holds out prospect of diplomatic solution to North Korea crisis

The military buildup on both sides comes amid heightened tensions over North Korea's nuclear and missile programs and warnings from the Trump administration that "all options are on the table" for dealing with the regime in Pyongyang.

By Anna Fifield

WorldViews: Japan warns citizens they might have only 10 minutes to prepare for a North Korean missile

Workers endured long hours, low pay at Chinese factory used by Ivanka Trump's clothing-maker

Inspectors with the Fair Labor Association found two dozen violations of international labor standards during a two-day tour of the factory in October.

By Drew Harwell

The White House errs in counting Franklin Roosevelt's executive orders

The White House wanted to say President Trump issued more executive orders in his first 100 days than Franklin Delano Roosevelt. But Roosevelt beat Trump by more than 3 to 1 during that period.

By Glenn Kessler

On Parenting Perspective

Dinner with both parents isn't always possible. But are children suffering because of it?

There is a lot of talk — and guilt — about the benefits of the family dinner, but that's not reality for many of us.

By Allison Klein

Cellphone interrupts Supreme Court hearing, embarrassing Justice Breyer

Electronic devices are banned from the grand courtroom, unless you're a justice, apparently. The incident also leaves several unanswered questions: What was that ringtone? And does a justice's black robe have pockets?

By Robert Barnes

The saga of a YouTube family who pulls disturbing pranks on their own kids

The parents behind a controversial YouTube prank channel with nearly 750,000 subscribers have said their family is now in counseling.

By Abby Ohlheiser

Share news tips with us confidentially

Do you have information the public should know? Here are some ways you can securely send information and documents to Post journalists.

Learn more »

Opinions

Julian Assange: The CIA director is waging war on truth-tellers like WikiLeaks

First 100 Days
What the other Washington thinks of President Trump

By Daniel Lee

Apparently repealing Obamacare could violate international law

By Dana Milbank

Dealmaker in Chief? More like the Backdown President.

By Kathleen Parker

Mattis and Trump: The odd couple that works

By David Ignatius

The Trump administration's magical thinking on taxes would bust the budget

Editorial Board

More Top Stories

Doctor at center of USA Gymnastics sex abuse scandal left warning signs at Michigan State

More than 100 women have filed criminal complaints against Larry Nassar, who had been a celebrity of sports medicine.

By Will Hobson

Trump ramps up rhetoric against Canada, calling country's trade policies 'very rough' on the U.S.

In a sharp pivot from his earlier criticism of China and Mexico for their trade practices, President Trump suggested Canada's benign image was deceptive.

By Caitlin Dewey

Flynn probably broke law by failing to disclose foreign income, House Oversight leaders say

Committee chairman Jason Chaffetz and ranking Democrat Elijah E. Cummings said they believe Michael Flynn neither received permission nor fully disclosed income he earned for a speaking engagement in Russia and lobbying activities on behalf of Turkey when he applied to reinstate his security clearance.

By Karoun Demirjian

White House holds out prospect of diplomatic solution to North Korea crisis

The military buildup on both sides comes amid heightened tensions over North Korea's nuclear and missile programs and warnings from the Trump administration that "all options are on the table" for dealing with the regime in Pyongyang.

By Anna Fifield

WorldViews: Japan warns citizens they might have only 10 minutes to prepare for a North Korean missile

Workers endured long hours, low pay at Chinese factory used by Ivanka Trump's clothing-maker

Inspectors with the Fair Labor Association found two dozen violations of international labor standards during a two-day tour of the factory in October.

By Drew Harwell

The White House errs in counting Franklin Roosevelt's executive orders

The White House wanted to say President Trump issued more executive orders in his first 100 days than Franklin Delano Roosevelt. But Roosevelt beat Trump by more than 3 to 1 during that period.

By Glenn Kessler

On Parenting Perspective

Dinner with both parents isn't always possible. But are children suffering because of it?

There is a lot of talk — and guilt — about the benefits of the family dinner, but that's not reality for many of us.

By Allison Klein

Cellphone interrupts Supreme Court hearing, embarrassing Justice Breyer

Electronic devices are banned from the grand courtroom, unless you're a justice, apparently. The incident also leaves several unanswered questions: What was that ringtone? And does a justice's black robe have pockets?

By Robert Barnes

The saga of a YouTube family who pulls disturbing pranks on their own kids

The parents behind a controversial YouTube prank channel with nearly 750,000 subscribers have said their family is now in counseling.

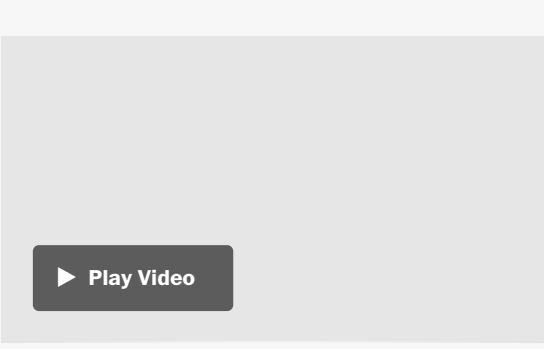

By Abby Ohlheiser

Share news tips with us confidentially

Do you have information the public should know? Here are some ways you can securely send information and documents to Post journalists.

Learn more »

Video

(/The Washington Post)

Facebook murder suspect killed himself as police closed in

5 fact checks from Trump's AP interview

Play Video 2:53

No, Obamacare is not in a 'death spiral' — at least for now

Play Video 3:25

By the numbers: Trump's first 100 days

Play Video 1:46

George Mason students build 3D-printed prosthetic bow arm for 10-year-old violinist

Play Video 2:13

Most Read

- UC-Berkeley readies police as Ann Coulter plans to speak in public plaza on campus
- Trump's 'sanctuary city' order blocked by federal judge in San Francisco
- Republicans offer spending plan without border wall as Trump continues to vow that it will be built
- A Thai man hanged his infant daughter on Facebook Live — then hanged himself, reports say
- House Freedom Caucus leaders back new health-care plan

Today's Paper

Today's print stories

View e-Replica edition

Market Watch

DJIA 1.12% NASDAQ 0.7%

Co. name or symbol

Last Update: 4:39 PM
04/26/2017(DJIA&NASDAQ)

Get quote

Live Discussions

Weekly schedule, past shows

Podcast

'Other: Mixed Race in America'

Starting Monday, a new episode will be available each day in our five-part series: Hear stories about families, inheritance and who is really "American." Listen to this introduction — and subscribe to get each new episode as soon as it's available.

E-book

Pulitzer Prize-winning reporting: Uncovering Trump

In February 2016, presidential candidate Donald Trump promised $6 million in donations, including $1 million from his own pocket, to charities along his campaign trail. Months later, he had donated far less than he pledged. Post reporter David A. Fahrenthold went in search of the missing money and found a bigger story than he ever expected.

Diversions

Comics
Crosswords
Mah Jongg
Sudoku
Eggz
Horoscopes
Solitaire
TV listings

From Our Advertisers

Content from Bank of America
Invested in a cleaner planet

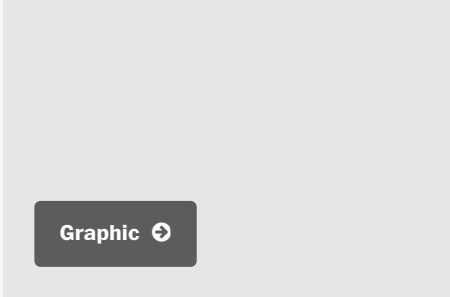

Content from Cleveland Clinic
Empathy by design: Healing the body while caring for the mind

Content from Sub-Zero
Wasted Yet Wanted

(Jonathan Newton/The Post)

The thrill of the fox hunt — in a land barely touched by time

(Darla Cameron/The Post)

How sanctuary cities work, and how Trump's executive order might affect them

(Chiqui Esteban and Scott Clement/The Post)

Americans size up Trump's first 100 days in Post-ABC poll

(Toru Hanai/Reuters)

Here are 20 of the week's best photos

(Goran Kosanovic for The Post)

Decorating small spaces: Here's a look at homes that make the most of their limited square footage

(Jesse Allen/NASA Earth Observatory)

An incredible look at national parks from space

Politics

Rod Rosenstein confirmed as deputy attorney general

Montana Gov. Steve Bullock on dark money, the drug war, and his state's special election

Slow pace of Trump nominations leaves Cabinet agencies 'stuck' in staffing limbo

Trump scrambles to show progress as the 100-day mark approaches

World

Whoever wins France's presidency will still face a big challenge: Governing

Trump takes a selective approach to the promotion of human rights

Rod Rosenstein confirmed as deputy attorney general

Mar-a-Lago article not reviewed before publication on government site

National

A 600-year-old life comes to an end

NPR's Robert Siegel set to leave 'All Things Considered'

Google's asking you for some help to fix its 'fake news' problem

Arkansas carries out country's first back-to-back executions in almost two decades

PostEverything

Perspective
Only 5 percent of Senate staffers are black. Congress needs the 'Rooney Rule.'

Perspective
When talking about Trump's corporate rate reduction, do not forget pass-throughs

Analysis
Immigration policy isn't just borders and fences. It's trade and aid, too.

Perspective
It's the 200th anniversary of the most counterintuitive idea in the social sciences

Local

Record-challenging heat possible for climate march in Washington on Saturday

Man dead after apartment fire in Woodbridge, Va.

D.C. sues company for allegedly treating rent-control apartments like 'hotel rooms'

Why D.C. residents don't need to worry about a federal government shutdown

Sports

After two controversies, golf's governing bodies decide to limit how TV viewers can influence game

Boxer Lamont Peterson saluted in District with a day in his honor

Dusty Baker splits up the lefties, slotting Ryan Zimmerman between Bryce Harper and Daniel Murphy

Aaron Hernandez lawyers ask for conviction to be overturned, deny reports of gay lover

Lifestyle

Gimmicky theme bars with a short shelf life are the hottest nightlife thing right now

'The Handmaid's Tale' has been feared, banned and loved. Now it's scaring the bejeezus out of us again.

Committee rejects Breitbart application for congressional press credentials

Perspective
Carolyn Hax: Inviting your mentally ill mom to your wedding

Arts

'The Handmaid's Tale' has been feared, banned and loved. Now it's scaring the bejeezus out of us again.

Julie Buntin's 'Marlena' is a gritty coming-of-age story about a troubled friendship

Review
The perils of peddling pedestrian productions to preteens

Lidia Yuknavitch blasts Joan of Arc into outer space

Technology

Waymo is giving hundreds of people access to their own self-driving cars

Google's asking you for some help to fix its 'fake news' problem

Verizon is launching its ultrafast competitor to Google Fiber

Perspective
Let the idiots go 'whoosh!' Honda has the right vehicle for surviving I-66.

Business

Workers endured long hours, low pay at Chinese factory used by Ivanka Trump's clothing-maker

The age of flying cars is here, Silicon Valley promises

Marissa Mayer's Yahoo stake is worth $186 million ahead of sale to Verizon

Read the latest from Capital Business

Federal Government

Federal employee pay, benefits ahead of private sector on average, CBO concludes

Perspective
Trump's first 100 days: How have feds and their agencies fared?

Perspective
Support grows for small agency with big reach on Trump's budget death row

Perspective
Dueling letters from opposing groups warn Sessions on political hiring

Real Estate

D.C. area tops list in black, Latino homeownership rates, Trulia says

Home inspections can be valuable, but sometimes they go too far

Demand — and rents — for D.C. apartments are up. If you're looking, here's what you can do.

How to avoid rookie mistakes when installing porch steps

