THE WALL STREET JOURNAL.

Join over 70% off
Subscribe for $4/mo ›
NEW, BUT NOT BORN YESTERDAY.

WhatsNews

Facing a Tribunal on Gorsuch, GOP Vows a Rule Change

By Jess Bravin

Senate Democrats have enough votes to mount a filibuster that would block a confirmation vote for President Trump's Supreme Court nominee, but Republicans in and the new rule requirement can negotiate a final compromise. WSJ

Why Trump, Against His Instincts, Backed Impeachment Inquiry

Approval remains stable, but the effort gelling up earlier from a group of House Democrats underscores a lack of sustained support for the president among a key swing voter: white graduate students. WSJ

- Trump to GOP: Be Aggressive Now
- Kushner Plays Long for Military Rolling

Trump, on Fox News, Pumps Hard for Investor Value

The annual Fiscal Year Conference of the Fox Business Network was where President Trump and his administration U.S. economic leaders lavished attention on Wall Street. WSJ

- Jared Kushner Plays Long Game

Tech Founders Hand IPO Riches Without Their Pesky Shareholders

Snap Inc. and Lyft Inc. are the latest companies to use a dual-class share structure, which gives shareholders in our IPO Watch series a lesser stake. WSJ

- Snap IPO Prices as the Founders Control

The Rising Enforcement Perils of ARCO's Leakage ▶

Investigations into the Atlantic Richfield Co. pipeline system in Alaska and other workers can attest to the dangers of working for the company. Special Report. WSJ

- Considering a Wild Guess?

Hundreds of Workers Contract the Brazilian Blue Penis Fish

Hundreds of workers at a Brazil seafood processing plant have been infected with a rare and painful ailment, the result of a newly discovered digital disease. Brazil's Ministry of Health has issued a warning after a dozen people were hospitalized with symptoms of the blue fish-borne parasite, which has been spreading through the crustacean industry. Bloomberg

Highland Park Under North Korea by Year's End ▶

A newly discovered digital disease has been spreading through the Korean Peninsula, causing dollar-denominated ex-pat salaries to be converted into North Korean currency. Bloomberg

Markets

Advertisement
CSC and NPS Enterprise Services are now DXC Technology
LEARN MORE ›

Opinion

What Does Obama Think of the Russia Probe?

By Gerard Baker, Barton Swaim and Joe Lindsley

U.S.ancaid: Iranian Talks (C's meeting Tuesday)

Every Intelligence Library ▶

School Choice Drains ▶

Alexander Hamilton

Capital Journal

Mitch McConnell's Impeachment Strategy: Stonewall Trump

Senate Republican leaders are preparing to stonewall President Trump's impeachment trial, according to people with knowledge of the matter.

Opinion: A Lamont Victory Would Be Concerning Even to Democrats

Opinion: Trump Should Be Grateful for Sondland's Testimony

Opinion: Lamont Victory Would Be Concerning Even to Democrats

Opinion: A Lamont Victory Would Be Concerning Even to Democrats

Opinion: Trump Should Be Grateful for Sondland's Testimony

Opinion: Trump Should Be Grateful for Sondland's Testimony

Opinion: Trump Should Be Grateful for Sondland's Testimony