

arts & life

POLITICS

Trump Held Rally In Pennsylvania While Journalists Gathered In D.C.

music On his 100th day in office, President Trump opted to hold a "Make America Great Again" rally instead of attending the annual White House Correspondents' Association dinner in Washington.

topics

programs

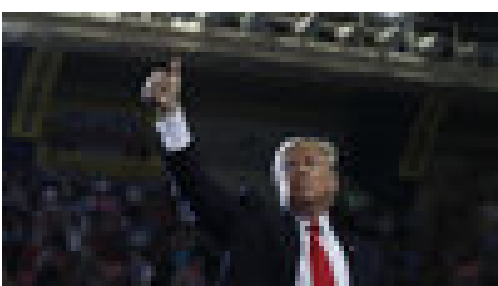

Photo: Justin Sizemore

6

POLITICS

podcasts Trump's Absence Loomed Large At Annual White House Correspondents' Dinner

The gathering of D.C. journalists, which had been a top draw for Hollywood celebrities during the Obama administration, took on a different air this year as the new president decided not to attend.

Photo: Justin Sizemore

LATEST FROM NPR NEWS

Dozens Hospitalized, Several Killed As Tornadoes Hit East Texas

Marine Le Pen Aligns Herself With Mainstream Onetime Rival

Marchers Unite To Take On Trump's Climate Policies

People Are Reporting Criminal (Space) Aliens To New ICE Hotline

Paradise Lost: Luxury Music Festival Turns Out To Be Half-Built Scene Of Chaos

MORE NEWS

LATEST NEWSCAST

Listen - 5:00

CONNECT WITH NPR

Podcast Directory

Email Newsletters

NPR on Facebook

@npr on Twitter

POLITICS

President Trump's First 100 Days, In Photos

As President Donald Trump crosses the 100-day marker this weekend, photographer Gabriela Demczuk explores some of the major events that have transpired in the White House and on Capitol Hill.

Photo: Gabriela Demczuk

GOATS AND SODA

The Surprising Wishes Of India's Sex Workers

A researcher found that some of them don't want to be "rescued." And that in one community, sex work is a traditional occupation for married women.

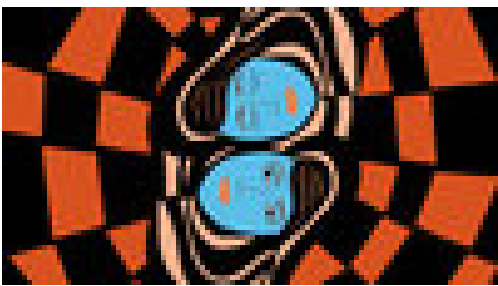

Photo: Benji Lipp for NPR

SHOTS - HEALTH NEWS

Being A Guinea Pig For Science Can Be A Long, Slow Slog

Brenda Jefferson volunteered for a clinical trial to see if intermittent fasting can help treat multiple sclerosis. Five months in, she realizes that this study won't answer that question.

Photo: Brenda Jefferson

PARALLELS - WORLD NEWS

4 Years After Rana Plaza Tragedy, What's Changed For Bangladeshi Garment Workers?

Four years after the deadliest garment factory disaster, a new report by Human Rights Watch finds that many global apparel companies have not signed a transparency pledge regarding its supply chain.

Photo: Human Rights Watch

THE SALT

'Paradise Lost': How The Apple Became The Forbidden Fruit

Some 350 years ago, Milton's epic chronicled the Fall of Man, wrought by the red fruit. Except that it might've been a fig or peach or pear. An ancient Roman made a pun - and the apple myth was born.

Photo: WikiMedia Commons

POLITICS

What We Learned About The Mood Of Trump's Tweets

How angry or happy were President Trump's tweets during his first 100 days? This last week was not a particularly positive one, according to a sentiment analysis.

Listen - 0:57

Photo: Justin Sizemore

SHOTS - HEALTH NEWS

A Trauma Nurse Reflects On 'Compassion Fatigue'

Years of treating grievously injured people starts to wear on a person, a trauma nurse in Minneapolis says. She explores "compassion fatigue" in a semi-autobiographical poem.

Listen - 0:57

Photo: Justin Sizemore

MOVIE INTERVIEWS

These Short Films Shine A Spotlight On Sexual Harassment

Screenplaywright Sigal Avni teamed up with her friend David Schweimer to produce #ThatIsHarassment. The short films -- some inspired by her own experiences -- aim to clarify what harassment is.

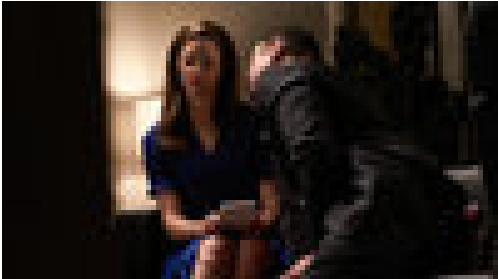

Photo: David Schweimer

DEAR SUGARS

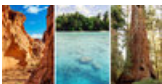

Is Facebook Real Life Or Is It Just Fantasy?

WEIRD

Dear Sugar Radio's a podcast offering "medical empathy" and advice for the lost, lonely and heartlucky. Today she hosts her from a woman in an "emotional effort" with a college friend on Facebook.

Photo: Justin Sizemore

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

PHOTOS: See The Sweeping American Landscapes Under Review By Trump

President Trump has ordered the Department of the Interior to review the status of at least 20 national monuments. Here's a visual guide to the landscapes now in Trump's sights.

Photo: Justin Sizemore

WORLD CAFE

Heavy Rotation: 10 Songs Public Radio Can't Stop Playing

Hear new music by country veteran Marty Stuart, former Gospel frontwoman Beth Ditto, psychedelic hip-hop duo Shabazz Palaces and more in April's playlist, curated by public-radio hosts.

Listen - 0:57

Photo: Justin Sizemore

ENVIRONMENT

In Utah, How You Tread Through This Canyon Matters

In Utah's canyon country, federal land managers are partially jettisoning a ban on off-road vehicle travel through an area that's prized for its sensitive Native American cultural sites.

Listen - 0:57

Photo: Justin Sizemore

POLITICS

The First 100 Days: 'A Standard That Not Even Roosevelt Achieved'

The 100-day measure of a president is based on FDR's achievements in 1933. The problem for Trump is not that he's come up short of FDR, but that he's come up short of his own promises.

Photo: Justin Sizemore

NPR thanks our sponsors

Become an NPR sponsor

U.S.

Meet The Teenage Girl Who Wants to Be A Boy Scout
WWVC RADIO
Sixteen-year-old Sydney Ireland has been an unofficial Boy Scout for more than a decade. Now she's petitioning the organization for the right to earn merit badges along with her male troop mates.

Listen

3:46

Teenage Scout(WVC)

ALL TECH CONSIDERED

In 'The Circle', What We Give Up When We Share Ourselves
The film, based on the book by Dave Eggers, presents a dystopian view of where Silicon Valley is taking the world and captures the tech industry's failure to acknowledge the downside of its creations.

Frank Marshall/CBS EyeMedia

i

Reconnecting to 1945

CODE SWITCH

Walking In Their Footsteps At A Former Japanese Internment Camp
"I wanted to see Manzanar with my own eyes, so that my understanding of history might feel deeper through the experience of place."