

Home-Based Drug Treatment Program Costs Less And Works

NEW HAMPSHIRE PUBLIC RADIO

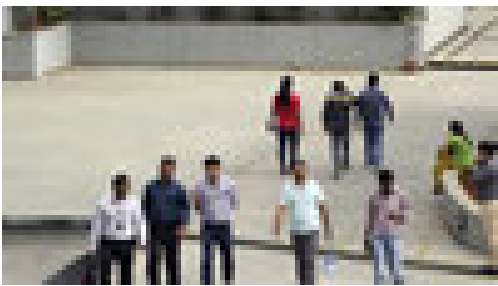

Treating addiction is expensive, and patients often relapse. A new company is offering better results at a price that's lower in the long run — and clients get treatment right at home.

John F. Sullivan/NPR

New Trump Order Extends 'Buy American' And 'Hire American' Rules

During a visit to the Snap-on tool company Tuesday, President Trump will sign an executive order designed to reinforce government purchasing policies and discourage the heavy use of guest workers.

John F. Sullivan/NPR

LATEST FROM NPR NEWS

Justice Gorsuch Finds His 'Easier' Solution Has Few Takers On 1st Day

Arkansas' Push To Carry Out Executions Hits Another Roadblock

Pence Tells North Korea: 'The Era Of Strategic Patience Is Over'

Atlanta Highway Buckles Dramatically, Injuring A Motorcyclist

Gas Leak At BP Oil Well In Alaska Has Been Stopped

MORE NEWS

LATEST NEWSCAST

Listen - 5:00

CONNECT WITH NPR

Podcast Directory

Email Newsletters

NPR on Facebook

@npr on Twitter

As Trump Inquiries Flood Ethics Office, Director Looks To House For Action

Walter Shaub of the Office of Government Ethics, which lacks enforcement power, says the House Oversight Committee does not seem to be matching the surge of concern about the Trump administration.

Chris Paterson/NPR

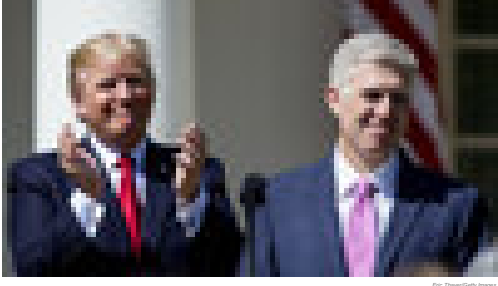

Listen - 5:01

Who Oversees The President's Ethics? Here's Our List

Justice Gorsuch Finds His 'Easier' Solution Has Few Takers On First Day

Neil Gorsuch looked like a kid on the first day of high school when he made his debut on the U.S. Supreme Court — sitting tall and asking lots of questions.

AP Photo/Andy Runyan

Listen - 5:44

Investigation Into Prince's Death Reveals Pills Were Hidden At Paisley Park

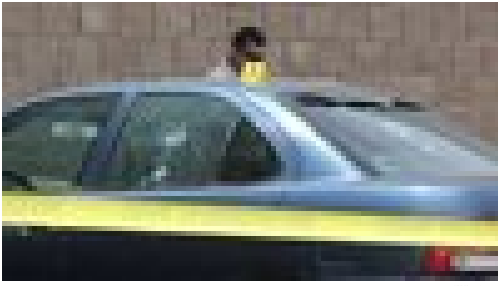

Assorted opioid painkillers and sedatives — many prescribed not to Prince, but to a friend — were found throughout the artist's home, according to documents released today.

AP Photo/OTD/Getty Images

A 73-Year-Old Is Latest Victim Of Deadly Attacks On Mexican Journalists

The murder of Maximino Rodríguez Palacios in Baja California last week is the latest in a string of killings that have made the country one of the most dangerous in the world to report the news.

AP Photo/Andy Runyan

Listen - 5:41

Mexico Catches One Of Several Fugitive Former Governors After A Half-Year Hunt

AP Photo/Steve Delaney

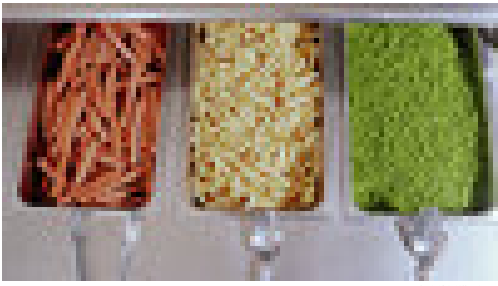

Atlanta Highway Buckles Dramatically, Injuring A Motorcyclist

Interstate 20 is currently closed for repairs. It's the second eye-popping highway malfunction in Atlanta in a month. In late March, an interstate overpass collapsed after a fire.

Schools Will Soon Have To Put In Writing If They 'Lunch Shame'

ALUMNI

Advocates hope the recent law out of New Mexico that bans school staff from shaming kids for not having lunch money will help to shape policies the USDA is requiring school districts have by July 1.

Brian Kohn/OTD/Getty Images

State's Push To Carry Out Executions Hits Another Roadblock In Arkansas

Arkansas had sought to execute eight men before its supply of a lethal injection drug expires. The state Supreme Court stayed the executions of two inmates set for Monday night.

AP Photo/Steve Delaney

Federal Court Blocks Executions Set For 13-Day Span

AP Photo/OTD

Ride Hailing In Rural America: Like Uber With A Neighborly Feel

WISU

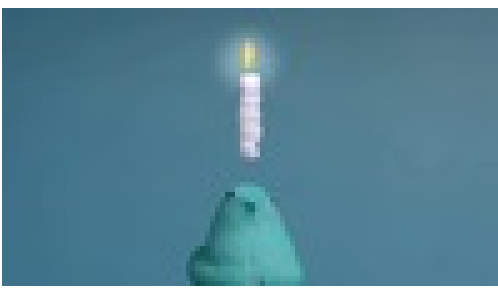

A small startup called Liberty Mobility Now is staking itself as the Uber of rural America. But to find its niche there, it has had to adapt everything from its app to its driver training.

Listen - 4:01

Peep Show: Watch Us Calculate The Speed Of Light With Stale Easter Treats

NPR's Adam Carle demonstrates a science experiment that offers a new use for old Peeps. All you need is a ruler and a microwave.

Adam Carle/NPR

ACT UP At 30: Reinvigorated For Trump Fight

Veteran activists who helped make ACT UP and its affiliates a potent force in the fight against AIDS are now helping train activists opposed to the policies of the Trump administration.

The New York Times/Associated Press/Getty Images

Pence Tells North Korea: 'The Era Of Strategic Patience Is Over'

"All options are on the table," U.S. Vice President Mike Pence said during his visit to South Korea, amid rising tensions with North Korea over its nuclear and ballistic missile program.

AP Photo/Mark Wilson

VIDEO: Why North Korea's Nuclear Program Keeps The World On Edge

Anthony D'Amico/AP

Big City Escapee Is Living In A Mud Hut — And Loving It

Most young people in the tiny Indian village of Chaska dream of life in the big city. But Grittina Nath Jha gave up his New Delhi life to return to his birthplace.

Why Hard Decisions Should Be Easy (But Aren't)
Hard decisions are hard for two reasons: because no single option clearly dominates the alternatives, and because we expect our choice to have significant consequences, says blogger Tania Lombrozo.

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

First Woman To Wear A Boston Blb Races Again, 50 Years Later

After Kathrine Switzer entered the marathon in 1967 — without telling organizers she was a woman — the race director tried to rip her numbers off. She finished anyway. This year, she was cheered on as she completed the marathon with a time of 4:44:31.

Photo Courtesy: Boston Globe via Getty Images

2 First-Time Boston Marathoners Emerge Victorious

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

Cleveland Police Search For Suspect Who Posted Homicide Video On Facebook

The suspect, Steve Stephens, allegedly uploaded a video in which he fatally shoots an elderly man. Stephens also says he's killed more than a dozen other people. Police have not verified that claim.

AP

Global Post Archives

PARALLELS - WORLD NEWS

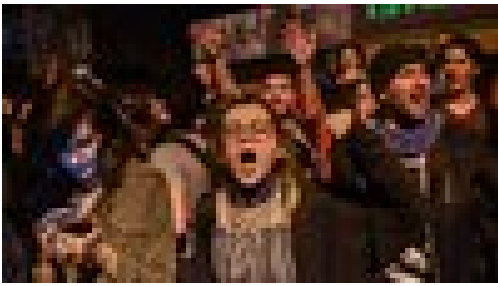

Amid Aid Uncertainty, U.S. Counterterrorism Cooperation Continues In Africa

Forces from 27 countries took part last month in U.S.-led counterterrorism exercises to fight extremist violence by Boko Haram, the flow of foreign fighters and trafficking in the Lake Chad region.

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

Erdogan Says Monitors Questioning Turkey's Vote Should 'Know Their Place'

European election observers said in preliminary findings that Sunday's referendum "took place on an uneven playing field." The nationwide vote vastly expands President Recep Tayyip Erdogan's powers.

David Heiney/Reuters via Getty Images

Historic Referendum In Turkey Grants More Power To President

Steve Delaney/Getty Images

MUSIC REVIEWS

Kendrick Lamar's 'DAMN.' Is Introspective And Unforgiving

If 'To Pimp a Butterfly' Lamar's sonic jazz-funk experiment, played like billiard balls scattering after the break, then DAMN. wraps its focus inward: tight and layered, like a bundle of rubber bands.

more stories

news >

arts & life >

music >

back to top

homepage

news

arts & life

music

programs

about

help

contact

terms of use

privacy

sponsorship choices

text-only

© 2017 npr