

Listen1:31

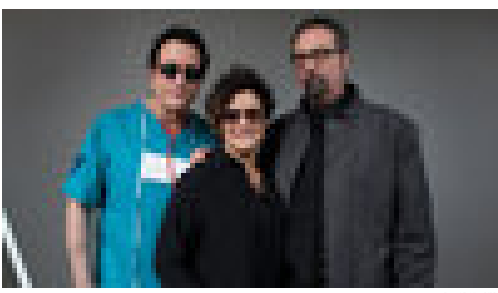

Photo: Justin Sizemore/NPR

POLITICS

President Trump's First 100 Days, In Photos

As President Donald Trump crosses the 100-day mark this weekend, photographer Gabriella Demczuk explores some of the major events that have transpired in the White House and on Capitol Hill.

Trump's 100-Day Plan, Annotated: Where His Promises Stand

The First 100 Days: 'A Standard That Not Even Roosevelt Achieved'

i

Gabriella Demczuk

POLITICS

Trump's Absence Loomed Large At Annual White House Correspondents' Dinner

In the gathering of D.C. journalists, which had been a top draw for Hollywood celebrities during the Obama administration, took on a different air this year as the new president decided not to attend.

AP Photo/JP

MOVIE INTERVIEWS

'It Is Neither Nor, It Is Both': Tom Hanks Finds No Easy Answers In 'The Circle'

In the film adaptation of Dave Eggers' 2013 novel, Hanks plays Eamon Bailey, co-founder of a giant social media and tech company with the creepy motto: "Sharing is caring."

Photo: Michael Ochs Media/Getty Images

Listen1:50

In 'The Circle,' What We Give Up When We Share Ourselves

GOATS AND SODA

The Surprising Wishes Of India's Sex Workers

A researcher found that some of them don't want to be "rescued." And that in one community, sex work is a traditional occupation for married women.

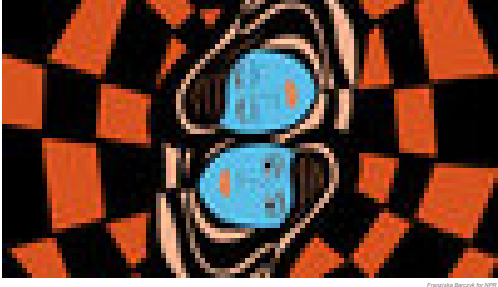

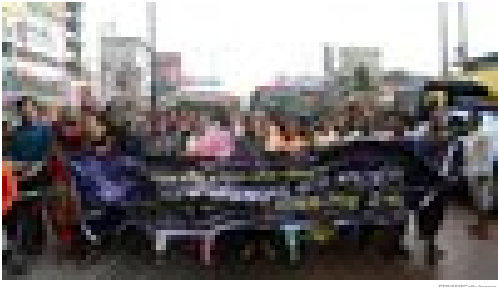

Photo: Anil Kumar for NPR

PARALLELS - WORLD NEWS

4 Years After Rana Plaza Tragedy, What's Changed For Bangladeshi Garment Workers?

Four years after the deadliest garment factory disaster, a new report by Human Rights Watch finds that many global apparel companies have not signed a transparency pledge regarding its supply chains.

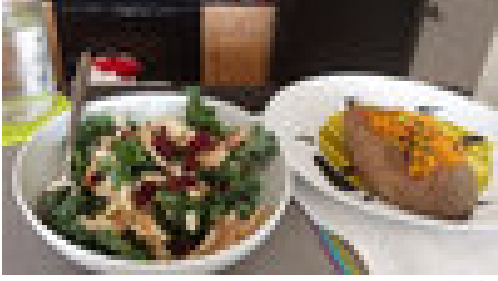

AP Photo/Anwar Hossain

SHOTS - HEALTH NEWS

Being A Guinea Pig For Science Can Be A Long, Slow Slog

Brandie Jefferson volunteered for a clinical trial to see if intermittent fasting can help treat multiple sclerosis. Five months in, she realizes that this study won't answer that question.

Courtesy of Brandie Jefferson

SHOTS - HEALTH NEWS

A Trauma Nurse Reflects On 'Compassion Fatigue'

Years of treating grievously injured people starts to wear on a person, a trauma nurse in Minneapolis says. She explores "compassion fatigue" in a semi-autobiographical poem.

Listen1:25

Chris Kennedy for NPR