Scores killed in one of Syria's deadliest chemical attacks in years

Activists said airstrikes delivered an unidentified chemical agent that killed at least 58 people and filled clinics with patients foaming at the mouth or struggling to breathe. President Trump called the Syrian regime's attack "reprehensible" but blamed it on the Obama administration's "weakness and irresolution."

Senate Intelligence chair won't rule out interviewing Susan Rice over 'unmasking' claims

Some GOP lawmakers want the former national security adviser to testify about allegations that she sought to have the identities of President Trump and members of his transition team revealed in foreign surveillance reports. Rice called the allegations "absolutely false" in a TV interview Tuesday.

Advertisers flee Bill O'Reilly's Fox News show amid sexual-harassment claims

At least 11 companies, including leading car, financial and pharmaceutical advertisers, have suspended or removed ads from "The O'Reilly Factor" after news that the host has been the subject of a succession of sexual-harassment allegations over the past 15 years. The advertiser retreat represented the most significant threat to O'Reilly seen during his long, successful and occasionally controversy-riven career at Fox.
