

ON AIR NOW
WHYY

POLITICS

Trump Held Rally In Pennsylvania While Journalists Gathered In D.C.

On his 100th day in office, President Trump opted to hold a "Make America Great Again" rally instead of attending the annual White House Correspondents' Association dinner in Washington.

POLITICS

Trump's Absence Loomed Large At Annual White House Correspondents' Dinner

The gathering of D.C. journalists, which had been a top draw for Hollywood celebrities during the Obama administration, took on a different air this year as the new president decided not to attend.

LATEST FROM NPR NEWS

Dozens Hospitalized, Several Killed As Tornadoes Hit East Texas

Marine Le Pen Aligns Herself With Mainstream Onetime Rival

Turkey Blocks Wikipedia Accusing It Of Running 'Smear Campaign'

Pope Francis Winds Up Trip To Egypt

Paradise Lost: Luxury Music Festival Turns Out To Be Half-Built Scene Of Chaos

MORE NEWS >

LATEST NEWSCAST

Listen · 5:00

CONNECT WITH NPR

Podcast Directory

Email Newsletters

NPR on Facebook

@npr on Twitter

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

Marchers Unite To Take On Trump's Climate Policies

On the symbolic 100th day in office for President Trump, who has denied climate change, protesters are rallying in front of the White House to call for better environmental protections.

POLITICS

The First 100 Days: 'A Standard That Not Even Roosevelt Achieved'

The 100-days measure of a president is based on FDR's achievements in 1933. The problem for Trump is not that he's come up short of FDR, but that he's come up short of his own promises.

Listen · 4:25

Queue

Help Wanted: The Trump Administration (Still) Has Some Openings To Fill

Trump's 100-Day Plan, Annotated: Where His Promises Stand

100 Days In, Women's March Still Inspires. But Can The Enthusiasm Hold?

GOATS AND SODA

She Calls Her Movies 'Afro Bubble Gum Art'

Wanuri Kahiu doesn't want to make films about suffering Africans. Her movies celebrate happiness — with a sci-fi twist.

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

People Are Reporting Criminal (Space) Aliens To New ICE Hotline

Immigration authorities launched a hotline for victims of crimes "committed by illegal aliens." Trump critics are calling with reports of Martians instead.

DEAR SUGARS

Is Facebook Real Life Or Is It Just Fantasy?

WBUR

Dear Sugar Radio is a podcast offering "radical empathy" and advice for the lost, lonely and heartsick. Today the hosts hear from a woman in an "emotional affair" with a college friend on Facebook.

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

PHOTOS: See The Sweeping American Landscapes Under Review By Trump

President Trump has ordered the Department of the Interior to review the status of at least 20 national monuments. Here's a visual guide to the landscapes now in Trump's sights.

Bureau of Land Management/Flickr, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service/Flickr, David McNew/Getty Images

ENVIRONMENT

In Utah, How You Tread Through This Canyon Matters

In Utah's canyon country, federal land managers are partially lifting a ban on off-road vehicle travel through an area that's prized for its sensitive Native American cultural sites.

Listen · 3:56

Queue

SHOTS - HEALTH NEWS

Those TV Drug Ads Distract Us From The Medical Care We Need

Doctors spend lots of time answering questions about the latest drug ad, and that means less time answering questions that could really help your health, a primary care physician says.

Katherine Streeter for NPR

POLITICS

Trump Continues To Have Staunch Supporters And Determined Opposition

Across the country, President Trump continues to have the support of those who voted for him, and those who opposed him have found additional reasons to do so in the past 100 days.

Listen · 6:39

Queue

WORLD CAFE

Heavy Rotation: 10 Songs Public Radio Can't Stop Playing

Hear new music by country veteran Marty Stuart, former Gossip frontwoman Beth Ditto, psychedelic hip-hop duo Shabazz Palaces and more in April's playlist, curated by public-radio hosts.

Listen · 4:05

Queue

Alyse Galkjen/Courtesy of the artist

NPR ED

Trump On Education Department: 'Reverse This Federal Power Grab'

Our weekly education news roundup: State officials criticize DeVos for student loan protections; and typos torpedo some grant applications for low-income students.

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

Paradise Lost: Luxury Music Festival Turns Out To Be Half-Built Scene Of Chaos

Tickets cost thousands for what organizers were calling "the cultural event of the decade." But when visitors arrived, they found a tent city without enough power, security or food.

CODE SWITCH

Walking In Their Footsteps At A Former Japanese Internment Camp

"I wanted to see Manzanar with my own eyes, so that my understanding of history might feel deeper through the experience of place."

Melissa Hung for NPR

U.S.

Meet The Teenage Girl Who Wants To Be A Boy Scout

WNYC RADIO

Sixteen-year-old Sydney Ireland has been an unofficial Boy Scout for more than a decade. Now she's petitioning the organization for the right to earn merit badges along with her male troop mates.

Listen · 3:56

Queue

ALL TECH CONSIDERED

In 'The Circle', What We Give Up When We Share Ourselves

The film, based on the book by Dave Eggers, presents a dystopian view of where Silicon Valley is taking the world and captures the tech industry's failure to acknowledge the downside of its creations.

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

Tutu Protests And Parties Break Out In Wyoming Over Senator's Remark

People are using the #LiveandLetTutu hashtag to share images of themselves wearing tutus in response to Sen. Mike Enzi saying a man who wears a tutu in a bar is asking for it.

THE SALT

19th Century Princess And Cookbook Author Was Also Georgia's First Feminist

Princess Barbare Jorjadze is renowned for her cookbook. But she spent most of her life writing letters, poems and essays to fight for a greater public role for Georgian women.

George Lomsadze for NPR

more stories

news

arts & life

music

back to top