

ON AIR NOW
WHYY

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

What We Don't Know (And Wish We Did) About The Russia Investigation

When Russia tried to influence the U.S. presidential election, who knew it was happening? Who helped, and who was exploited? And in the months since, who leaked classified intel, and why?

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

Emmanuel Macron Promises 'Hope And Renewed Confidence' To France

The centrist is set to become the youngest president in modern French history. Sunday's results mark a big defeat for right-wing Marine Le Pen, who hoped to ride the populist wave to victory.

LATEST FROM NPR NEWS

Texas Gov. Abbott Signs Measure Targeting 'Sanctuary Cities'

Kushner Companies' Pitch To Chinese Investors Raises Conflict Of Interest Questions

50,000 German Residents Evacuated After World War II Bombs Found

Champion Bobsledder Steven Holcomb 'Found Dead In His Room'

'Morning Joe' Gets Awkward And Kids Search For Kellyanne Conway On 'SNL'

MORE NEWS >

LATEST NEWSCAST

Listen - 5:00

CONNECT WITH NPR

Podcast Directory

Email Newsletters

NPR on Facebook

@npr on Twitter

'Up First' Podcast: France Rejects Far-Right Candidate In Historic Election

French voters elected Emmanuel Macron for president over the weekend. This week President Trump's revised travel ban gets its first federal appeals court review. And ex-acting Attorney General Sally Yates testifies on Russia's attempt to meddle in U.S. elections.

Listen - 12:38

Queue

Subscribe To The 'Up First' Podcast

LAW

Trump Travel Ban Returns To Court, With His Own Words At The Center

A federal appeals court in Richmond, Va., is preparing to hear arguments about the legality of President Trump's revised travel ban. Immigrant advocates argue it discriminates against Muslims.

'Up First' Podcast: Appeals Court To Review Travel Ban

Full Text: Trump's New Executive Order On Travel, Annotated

AROUND THE NATION

Google Moves In And Wants To Pump 1.5 Million Gallons Of Water Per Day

The company says it needs that much water to cool its servers at a South Carolina data center. Now, community leaders are having to balance economic benefits with environmental impact.

BUSINESS

Have The 'Miserable' Airlines Finally Reached A Tipping Point?

"We're a bunch of tuna crammed into a can and it's miserable," said one traveler. Now, airlines hope they can get past the perception that they put profit over passenger comfort.

Listen - 3:45

Queue

THE SALT

Fresh Food By Prescription: This Health Care Firm Is Trimming Costs — And Waistlines

The rising prevalence and cost of Type 2 diabetes has doctors at Geisinger Health System turning to food as a form of medicine. They're prescribing free, fresh food to low-income patients.

Listen - 6:27

Queue

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

Texas Gov. Abbott Signs Measure Targeting 'Sanctuary Cities'

The law, effective Sept. 1, allows police to ask during routine stops if someone is in the country legally and threatens sheriffs with jail if they don't cooperate with immigration agents.

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

Kushner Companies' Pitch To Chinese Investors Raises Conflict Of Interest Questions

The sister of President Trump's son-in-law, Jared Kushner, highlighted her powerful brother as she sought financing for the family firm's real estate project in New Jersey to Chinese investors.

THEATER

When It Comes To Family Musicals, Kids' Opinions Matter More Than Critics'

Normally, critical reviews can kill a Broadway show, but not so for kid-focused musicals. Anastasia and Charlie and the Chocolate Factory are currently on Broadway, vying for the kid seal of approval.

Listen - 4:41

Queue

Matthew Murphy/Polk & Co.

COMMENTARY

Don't Count On The Senate To Save Obamacare, Or To Save The House

The leaders and rank-and-file of the House know that what they have done so far is not yet law. It may not even qualify as a rough draft. Giant steps remain, and some in the GOP may well be grateful.

As GOP Health Care Push Moves To Senate, White House Questions Value of CBO Analysis

THE SALT

Just How Organic Is Your Milk? Well, It Depends On The Dairy It Came From

Is there a difference between organic milk bought in a grocery store and milk bought straight from farmers? Washington Post reporter Peter Whoriskey talks with NPR's Scott Simon about his findings.

Listen - 4:35

Queue

MUSIC INTERVIEWS

Her Violin Stolen, A Prodigy's World Became 'Unstrung'

Min Kym had found her perfect partner in a 1696 Stradivarius — until it was snatched in a London cafe. She comes to terms with the loss in her new memoir, Gone: A Girl, A Violin, A Life Unstrung.

Listen - 7:46

Queue

A Stolen, Then Recovered, Stradivarius Returns To The Stage

A Rarity Reclaimed: Stolen Stradivarius Recovered After 35 Years

GOATS AND SODA

Quest For Beauty In Colombia Sometimes Ends In Tragedy

A mishap in Colombia highlights the dark side of cosmetic work in a country that is a hot spot for body rehabbing. Each year, hundreds of thousands of procedures are performed on locals and tourists.

Camilo Chaves/https://cerosetenta.unianides.edu.co/

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

'Oracle Of Omaha': GOP Health Care Bill 'A Huge Tax Cut For Guys Like Me'

At what's become an annual tradition that some call a "Capitalist Woodstock," Warren Buffett held forth on a wide range of issues, including Wells Fargo's scandal, tax cuts and driverless cars.

ANALYSIS

Say It Ain't So: 129 People Have Already Filed To Run For President In 2020

Already 129 people have filed to run for president in 2020. Among them: Donald Trump. Prominent people are considering it, but these elections receive outside attention compared to office's power.

BOOK REVIEWS

'And We're Off' Proves Brevity's Not Always The Soul Of Wit

Dana Schwartz is the Twitter whiz behind the @GuyInYourMFA and @DystopianYA accounts, but she stumbles in long form. Her debut novel, And We're Off, is quick and compelling but needs fleshing out.

MUSIC INTERVIEWS

Feist Has A Message For Her 71-Year-Old Self

This message is embedded in the Canadian singer's new album, Pleasure. "I appreciate the perspective that 28-year-old Leslie's shed on my life," she says. "I kind of want to echo that forward."

Listen - 5:58

Queue

/Courtesy of the artist

more stories

news

arts & life

music

back to top