

The Washington Post

Democracy Dies in Darkness

Penn

French Election

Le Pen defeat brings Europe’s far-right wave crashing to a halt

Anti-E.U. firebrand Marine Le Pen’s overwhelming loss to centrist Emmanuel Macron, whom voters preferred nearly 2-to-1, is a reality check for far-right forces. Despite victories for Brexit and Donald Trump, voters across Western Europe have since elected mainstream candidates to office, likely shutting out far-right candidates for years.

By Michael Birnbaum and Anthony Faiola

- Trump congratulates Macron on his ‘big win’ in France

Macron beats back populist tide to win French presidency

After a tumultuous campaign, voters turned to Macron, a political neophyte who has pledged to revive both his struggling country and the flailing continent.

By Griff Witte, James McAuley and Isaac Stanley-Becker

A political boy wonder, Macron is France’s youngest leader since Napoleon Bonaparte

A banker who has never held elected office, Macron’s rise is “entirely unprecedented” in a system that typically rewards entrenched political dynasties. He will be France’s first modern president to not belong to either the center-left or center-right parties.

By James McAuley

Nicole Kushner Meyer, third from left, sister of White House senior adviser Jared Kushner, at a Shanghai event. (Getty)

China pitch by Kushner’s sister renews controversy over visa program for wealthy foreigners

President Trump extended the EB-5 visa program, which grants fast-track immigration to those who invest $500,000 in U.S. properties, last week as part of the federal spending bill. Federal agencies have found the program to be prone to fraud and abuse, and both Republicans and Democrats have said it should be killed or overhauled.

By Michael Kranish

Sally Yates to testify about her discussions with the White House on Russia

Lawmakers want to question Yates, an Obama administration holdover who served as attorney general for 10 days, about her conversation in January with White House counsel Donald McGahn regarding former national security adviser Michael Flynn.

By Devlin Barrett and Sari Horwitz

Opinions

Emmanuel Macron’s extraordinary political achievement

By Anne Applebaum

Macron won — now comes the hard part

By E.J. Dionne Jr.

Taiwan arms deal in limbo as Trump courts China

By Josh Rogin

China is bent on world domination — but not in the way you think

By Fred Hiatt

Trump’s low-growth trap

By Robert J. Samuelson

Puerto Rico has officially gone bankrupt. In a way, that’s good news.

Editorial Board

More Top Stories

EPA dismisses half of its scientific advisers on key board, citing ‘clean break’ with Obama administration

The move could significantly change the makeup of the 18-member Board of Scientific Counselors, which advises the EPA’s key scientific arm on whether the research it does has sufficient rigor and integrity.

By Juliet Eilperin and Brady Dennis

Texas governor signs ‘sanctuary cities’ ban, springing surprise on critics

Over intense opposition from immigrant rights groups and Democrats, Gov. Greg Abbott signed a measure that allows police to ask about a person’s immigration status and threatens sheriffs with jail if they don’t cooperate with federal authorities.

By Fred Barbash and Samantha Schmidt

Penn State student said frat brothers ignored pleas to help classmate who died after hazing

Timothy Piazza was injured for more than 12 hours before fraternity members called 911, according to police.

By Cleve R. Wootson Jr. and Susan Srluga

Obama calls on lawmakers to show ‘courage’ in health-care fight

The former president, in Boston to receive the Profile in Courage Award on the 100th anniversary of President John F. Kennedy’s birth, called on Republican and Democratic lawmakers to stand up for vulnerable Americans and to ensure they do not lose access to care.

By Greg Jaffe

- House GOP defends health bill as Senate Republicans stay wary
- Fact Checker: Decoding HHS Secretary Price’s spin on the American Health Care Act

Tensions rise as New Orleans prepares to topple Confederate monuments

Confederate flag-waving demonstrators came face to face with people who want to see statues of Confederate leaders such as Robert E. Lee removed.

By Janell Ross

Free-standing emergency rooms offer convenience, but may drive up costs

Standalone emergency rooms have been springing up in Texas ever since a law passed in 2009 made them legal. There’s just one problem: People assume that they’re cheap. They’re not.

By Carolyn Y. Johnson

Analysis

Chris Pine’s SNL monologue reminds us how bad Hollywood’s superhero diversity problem is Whether inadvertently or intentionally, Pine and his tongue-in-cheek comments highlighted the glaring lack of diversity in big-budget superhero movies.

By Amy B Wang

- The Fix: SNL ridicules Kellyanne Conway in a remarkably short sketch

True-crime duo is killing it with ‘My Favorite Murder’ podcast

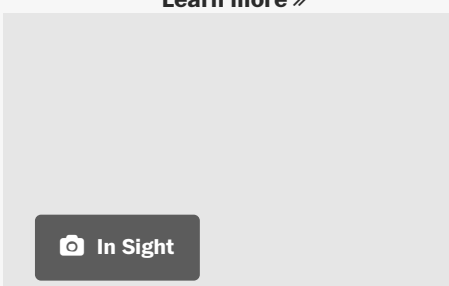

Georgia Hardstark and Karen Kilgariff, the hosts of the phenomenally successful program, believe that anyone who claims not to like true crime just hasn’t found the right murder yet.

By Allison Stewart

Share news tips with us confidentially

Do you have information the public should know? Here are some ways you can securely send information and documents to Post journalists.

Learn more »

(Ashley Gilbertson/VII Photo for UNICEF)

See Ashley Gilbertson’s photographs of bombing sites in Nigeria

(Bonnie Berkowitz/Post)

Science, Nike and a super-fast runner nearly pull off a 2-hour marathon

Morning Mix

(Facebook/AP)

Two engaged doctors found bound and slain in luxury Boston penthouse. Man in custody after shootout.

By Samantha Schmidt

Emma Watson takes first major gender-neutral movie award: ‘Antidote to all the vile old white men’

10 shot, 2 fatally, at Chicago vigil for shooting victim as gang violence soars

Texas Gov. Abbott springs surprise on critics, with unannounced Facebook live signing of sanctuary cities ban

Percentage of teens and children hospitalized for suicidal thoughts doubled from 2008 to 2015, study reports

Most Read

- China pitch by Kushner sister renews controversy over visa program for wealthy
- Emma Watson takes first major gender-neutral movie award: ‘Antidote to all the vile old white men’
- Texas Gov. Abbott springs surprise on critics, with unannounced Facebook live signing of sanctuary cities ban
- Macron wins presidency as France rejects Le Pen and her right-wing populist tide
- Sally Yates to testify about her discussions with the White House on Russia

Today’s Paper

Today’s print stories

View e-Replica edition

Market Watch

DJIA 0.26% NASDAQ 0.42%

Co. name or symbol

Last Update: 05/08/2017(DJIA&NASDAQ)

Get quote

Live Discussions

Weekly schedule, past shows

E-book

Pulitzer Prize-winning reporting: Uncovering Trump

In February 2016, presidential candidate Donald Trump promised $6 million in donations, including $1 million from his own pocket, to charities along his campaign trail. Months later, he had donated far less than he pledged. Post reporter David A. Fahrenthold went in search of the missing money and found a bigger story than he ever expected.

Diversions

- | | |
|------------|-------------|
| Comics | Eggz |
| Crosswords | Horoscopes |
| Mah Jongg | Solitaire |
| Sudoku | TV listings |

From Our Advertisers

Content from Bank of America
How green bonds work

Content from Sub-Zero
Solving the problem of food waste

Content from Rocky Mountaineer
Living wild in the Canadian Rockies

(Bonnie Berkowitz and Tim Meko/Post)

Appalachia comes up small in era of giant coal mines

(Facundo Arrizabalaga/European Pressphoto Agency)

Photos of Britain’s royal couple and their children

(Yoan Valat/European Pressphoto Agency)

See the scene as the French elect Emmanuel Macron as their new president

(Zakaria Abdelkafi/AFP/Getty Images)

Here are 26 of the week’s best photos

Politics

Plan to gut drug czar’s office not a done deal, White House chief of staff says

Analysis
A Navy SEAL was killed in Somalia. Here’s what you need to know about U.S. operations there.

Obama calls on lawmakers to show ‘courage’ in health-care fight

China pitch by Kushner sister renews controversy over visa program for wealthy

World

Putin uses the Soviet defeat of Hitler to show why Russia needs him today

Macron wins presidency as France rejects Le Pen and her right-wing populist tide

With Le Pen defeat, Europe’s far-right surge stalls

Analysis
Macron defeated Le Pen in France’s presidential election. Here’s what happens next.

National

Trump’s revised travel ban faces legal challenges in courtrooms on both coasts

Penn State student said frat brothers ignored pleas to help classmate who died after hazing

Arkansas toddler’s body found a week after floodwaters ripped her away from her mother’s arms

American University is dealing with a racist incident on its campus. It is not alone.

PostEverything

Perspective
Who gets hurt — and when — if Trumpcare becomes law

Perspective
Is the U.S. labor market finally at full employment? Not according to the inflation numbers.

Perspective
Trump isn’t putting America first. And that’s a good thing.

Perspective
I was raped. Thanks to Republicans, I could be denied insurance for surviving.

Local

How Md. Republicans plan to break the state Senate’s supermajority in 2018

Woman sexually assaulted in Rosslyn area of Arlington

Madaleno to activists at Metro rally: I am running for governor of Maryland

PM Update: Mostly clear and cold tonight. A taste of autumn weather for Monday.

Sports

Torrey Smith just paid the adoption fee for 46 dogs and cats at a Baltimore shelter

‘Today was tough’: Rockets’ Patrick Beverley plays despite death of grandfather

TV and radio listings: May 8

Scott Brooks preaches defense, and that’s what the Wizards gave him in Game 4

Lifestyle

How ‘Silicon Valley’ and ‘The Circle’ help explain our love-hate-can’t-live-without relationship with technology

Perspective
The government wants Julian Assange in jail. That could hurt the rest of us.

ABC is reportedly close to deal to bring back ‘American Idol’

Perspective
Grandma’s abuse warrants a heads-up

Arts

Review
A bright and moving ‘Butterfly’ comes to WNO

‘Norman’ director Joseph Cedar on his ‘fairy tale’ version of the New York fixer

A beloved Miro created for the National Gallery fell out of favor with curators

‘Men Without Women,’ a new story collection by Haruki Murakami

Technology

Analysis
Nissan unveils old-tech idea to fight new-tech distracted driving. But it’s just an idea, and a bit flawed.

Tesla is deliberately telling people the Model 3 is worse than the Model S

Facebook adds 3,000 employees to screen for violence as it nears 2 billion users

Waymo and Uber fight over missing documents in self-driving car trade secret case

Business

Free-standing emergency rooms offer costly convenience

Emergent BioSolutions opens expanded East Baltimore vaccine plant

Warren Buffett slams Wells Fargo’s handling of massive sales scandal

Read the latest from Capital Business

Federal Government

Perspective
Tillerson to staff: State changes ‘really stressful’ but ultimately ‘satisfying’

Perspective
Trump’s ‘good shutdown’ tweet sullies spending-plan agreement

Perspective
Trump could save big bucks following report’s recommendations

Perspective
Trump’s new VA office to help fire feds faster also could hurt, not protect, whistleblowers

Real Estate

Three-bedroom, two-bathroom single-family house in Bowie lists for $329,000

Mortgage rates are little changed this week

Cape Cod house gets update via midcentury modern throwback

In Northeast Washington, Brookland’s residents strive to save its ‘small-town feel’