

Trump Holds Rally In Pennsylvania As Journalists Gather At Annual D.C. Dinner

On his 100th day in office, President Trump opted to hold a "Make America Great Again" rally instead of attending the annual White House Correspondents' Association dinner in Washington.

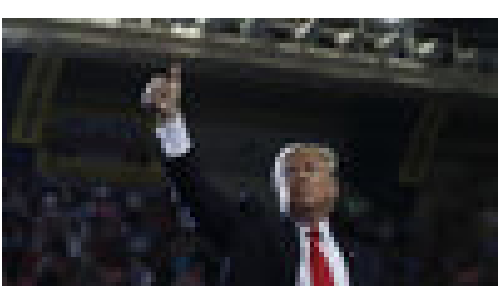

Photo: Justin Sizemore

Marchers Unite To Take On Trump's Climate Policies

podcasts On the symbolic 100th day in office for President Trump, who has denied climate change, protesters are rallying in front of the White House to call for better environmental protections.

Photo: Justin Sizemore

LATEST FROM NPR NEWS

Marine Le Pen Aligns Herself With Mainstream Onetime Rival

Turkey Blocks Wikipedia Accusing It Of Running 'Smear Campaign'

Pope Francis Winds Up Trip To Egypt

NSA To Limit Some Collection Of Internet Communication

Paradise Lost: Luxury Music Festival Turns Out To Be Half-Built Scene Of Chaos

MORE NEWS

LATEST NEWSCAST

Listen - 5:00

CONNECT WITH NPR

Podcast Directory

Email Newsletters

NPR on Facebook

@npr on Twitter

The First 100 Days: 'A Standard That Not Even Roosevelt Achieved'

The 100-days measure of a president is based on FDR's achievements in 1933. The problem for Trump is not that he's come up short of FDR, but that he's come up short of his own promises.

Listen - 4:25

Trump's 100-Day Plan, Annotated: Where His Promises Stand

100 Days In, Women's March Still Inspires. But Can The Enthusiasm Hold?

Help Wanted: The Trump Administration (SIR) Has Some Openings To Fill

She Calls Her Movies 'Afro Bubble Gum Art'

Womni Kahlo doesn't want to make films about suffering Africans. Her movies celebrate happiness — with a sci-fi twist.

Photo: Leah K. Hill

People Are Reporting Criminal (Space) Aliens To New ICE Hotline

Immigration authorities launched a hotline for victims of crimes "committed by illegal aliens." Trump critics are calling with reports of Martians instead.

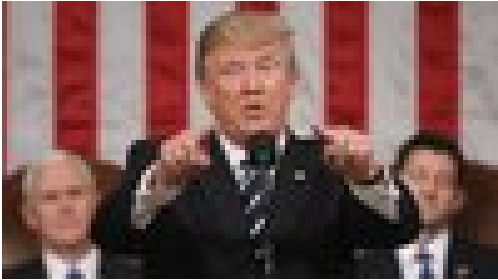

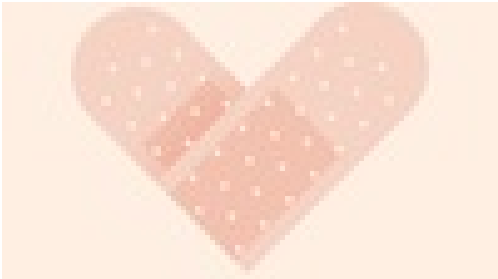

Photo: Justin Sizemore

Is Facebook Real Life Or Is It Just Fantasy?

WBUR

Dear Sugar Studio's a podcast offering "radical empathy" and advice for the best, lovely and heartick. Today the hosts hear from a woman in an "emotional affair" with a college friend on Facebook.

Courtesy of WBUR

PHOTOS: See The Sweeping American Landscapes Under Review By Trump

President Trump has ordered the Department of the Interior to review the status of at least 20 national monuments. Here's a visual guide to the landscapes now in Trump's sights.

Review of Land Management Photos: U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service/Photo: David McNew/Getty Images

In Utah, How You Tread Through This Canyon Matters

In Utah's canyon country, federal land managers are partially lifting a ban on off-road vehicle travel through an area that's prized for its sensitive Native American cultural sites.

Listen - 3:56

Photo: Douglass

Those TV Drug Ads Distract Us From The Medical Care We Need

Doctors spend lots of time answering questions about the latest drug ad, and that means less time answering questions that could really help your health, a primary care physician says.

Photo: Shutterfly/Getty Images

Trump Continues To Have Staunch Supporters And Determined Opposition

Across the country, President Trump continues to have the support of those who voted for him, and those who opposed him have found additional reasons to do so in the past 100 days.

Listen - 6:35

Photo: Douglass

Heavy Rotation: 10 Songs Public Radio Can't Stop Playing

Hear new music by country veteran Marty Stuart, former Gospel frontwoman Beth Ditto, psychedelic hip-hop duo Shabazz Palaces and more in April's playlist, curated by public-radio hosts.

Listen - 6:05

Photo: Shutterfly/Getty Images

Trump On Education Department: 'Reverse This Federal Power Grab'

Our weekly education news roundup: State officials criticize DeVos on student loan protections; and types torpedo some grant applications for low-income students.

Photo: Shutterfly/Getty Images

Paradise Lost: Luxury Music Festival Turns Out To Be Half-Built Scene Of Chaos

Tickets cost thousands for what organizers were calling "the cultural event of the decade." But when visitors arrived, they found a tent city without enough power, security or food.

Photo: Getty

Walking In Their Footsteps At A Former Japanese Internment Camp

"I wanted to see Manzanar with my own eyes, to shed my understanding of history might feel deeper through the experience of place."

Photo: Shutterfly/Getty Images

Meet The Teenage Girl Who Wants To Be A Boy Scout

WNIC RADIO

Sixteen-year-old Sydney Ireland has been an unofficial Boy Scout for more than a decade. Now she's petitioning the organization for the right to earn merit badges along with her male troop mates.

Listen - 3:05

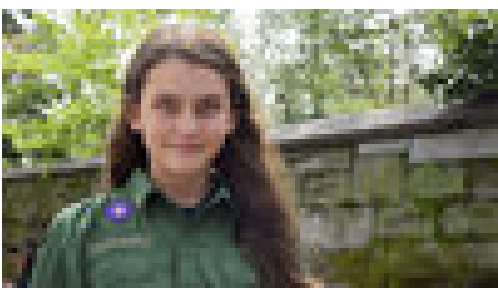

Photo: Ryan W. Lee

ALL TECH CONSIDERED

In 'The Circle', What We Give Up When We Share Ourselves
The film, based on the book by Dave Eggers, presents a dystopian view of where Silicon Valley is taking the world and captures the tech industry's failure to acknowledge the downside of its creations.

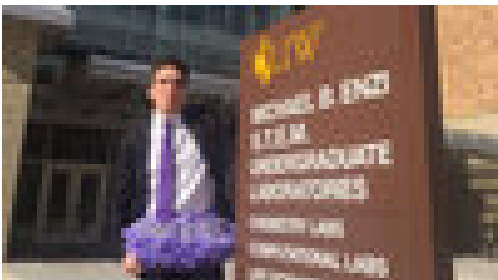

Photo: David Laundy

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

Tutu Protests And Parties Break Out In Wyoming Over Senator's Remark
People are using the #LiveandLetTutu hashtag to share images of themselves wearing tutus in response to Sen. Mike Enck saying a man who wears a tutu is a liar to asking for it.

Courtesy of Tyler Williams

THE SALT

19th Century Princess And Cookbook Author Was Also Georgia's First Feminist
Princess Barbara Jorjades is renowned for her cookbook. But she spent most of her life writing letters, poems and essays to fight for a greater public role for Georgian women.

Georgia Community for 19th

more stories

- news >
- arts & life >
- music >
- back to top 