

Flynn was warned by Trump transition officials about contacts with Russian ambassador

Weeks before a phone call that led to Michael Flynn's resignation, the former national security adviser was told that Russian Ambassador Sergey Kislyak's conversations were almost certainly being monitored by U.S. intelligence agencies.

By Greg Miller and Adam Entous

Health care will drive elections from state level to Capitol Hill

The issue probably will shape the next two voting cycles — including for gubernatorial candidates and state legislators, who will have to answer whether they intend to “opt out” of popular Affordable Care Act provisions. Just as Democrats were forced to defend Obamacare in the 2010 midterms — the result was a drubbing that Barack Obama called a “shellacking” — the GOP will be in the hot seat this time.

By Philip Rucker

An ambitious Republican finds himself in the crossfire as political divides deepen

A few months ago, Sen. Tom Cotton of Arkansas was laying the groundwork for his own ambitions. He's a rising star and one of the president's staunchest supporters. But on health care, he has not marched in lockstep. He echoes Senate GOP leaders: “We're going to write our own bill.”

By Sean Sullivan

Students at St. Anselm's Abbey School in Washington, D.C. (Linda Davidson/The Washington Post)

Analysis

These schools are the best in the nation at challenging students

The Washington Post crunched the data from high schools around the country: The number of advanced tests given divided by the number of students who graduated that year. How well did your student's school perform?

By Jay Mathews

- Perspective: A 30-year project that keeps growing

Campaign of French presidential candidate Emmanuel Macron says it has been hit by a ‘massive’ hack of emails and documents

The announcement came on the last official day of campaigning in France's contentious presidential election. The news immediately stoked fears of a targeted operation intended to destabilize the electoral process — especially after reports of alleged Russian hacking in the U.S. presidential election last November.

By James McAuley

Opinions

Everything you need to know about trade economics, in 70 words

By George P. Shultz and Martin Feldstein

Ivanka Trump, you have one job. Time to do it.

By Ruth Marcus

Yes, House Republicans, the heartless health-care vote will define you

By E.J. Dionne Jr.

How did Congress go from compromise one day to toxicity the next? Trump.

By Dana Milbank

Trump has brought down border crossings — by scaring people away

Editorial Board

More Top Stories

Texas officer charged with murder after fatally shooting black 15-year-old who was leaving party

Jordan Edwards was killed when Roy Oliver, a white officer, fired a rifle at a car of teenagers leaving a party in a Dallas suburb last weekend. The charge arrives a day ahead of Edwards's funeral.

By Peter Holley, Lindsey Bever, Wesley Lowery and Katie Mettler

Trump pick for Army secretary withdraws amid increasing opposition

Criticism of Mark Green, a Republican state lawmaker from Tennessee, centers on his past comments about Islam, evolution and gender issues, including suggestions that being transgender is a disease.

By Dan Lamothe

Federal probe of Fox News focuses on payments to Roger Ailes's alleged mistress

Investigators question witnesses about how Fox accounted for a $3.15 million payment to a former employee who said she had a 20-year affair with the news network's former chairman.

By Paul Farhi

Delta employees threatened to put a couple in jail. Can they really do that?

We asked lawyers, doctors and others to weigh in on who was wrong in the airline's fight with a toddler's parents.

By Abha Bhattarai

‘Heart-wrenching and incomprehensible’: 18 fraternity members charged in Penn State hazing death

A Penn State student's fraternity associates did not call for help until many hours after he was forced to drink excessively at the fraternity and fell multiple times, a grand jury investigation concluded. He died of his injuries.

By Susan Svrluga

White House fires its chief usher — the first woman in that job

Angella Reid, who oversaw all activities in the White House residence and worked as general manager of the building, joined the White House in 2011 under President Barack Obama.

By Ashley Parker and Krissah Thompson

Share news tips with us confidentially

Do you have information the public should know? Here are some ways you can securely send information and documents to Post journalists.

Learn more »

In Sight

(Ashley Gilbertson/VII Photo for UNICEF)

See Ashley Gilbertson's photographs of bombing sites in Nigeria

Graphic

(Kirsty Wigglesworth/AP)

Can science, Nike and three super-fast runners pull off a 2-hour marathon?

Graphic

(Bonnie Berkowitz and Tim Meko/Post)

Appalachia comes up small in era of giant coal mines

31 Photos

(Alastair Grant/AP)

Prince Philip in the public eye

View Photos

(Mario Tama/Getty Images)

Video

Play Video

(Jenny Starrs/The Washington Post)

What happens to the health-care bill in the Senate?

'Enjoy the health-care win, Republicans. It's the last one you'll have in a while.'

Play Video 2:13

Late-night laughs: House GOP passes health-care bill

Play Video 1:22

France's May 7 election: What you need to know

Play Video 3:09

The GOP health-care plan could cost you more if you have one of these preexisting conditions

Play Video 1:48

Most Read

1 White House fires its chief usher — the first woman in that job

2 Flynn was warned by Trump transition officials about contacts with Russian ambassador

3 ‘Heart-wrenching and incomprehensible’: 18 fraternity members charged in Penn State hazing death

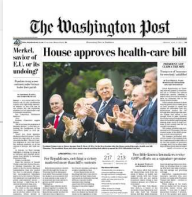

4 Democrats turn up the pressure on Republicans for health-care vote

5 Macron's campaign says it has been hit by 'massive' hack of emails and documents

Today's Paper

Today's print stories

View e-Replica edition

Market Watch

DJIA 0.26% NASDAQ 0.42%

Co. name or symbol

Last Update: 4:40 PM 05/06/2017(DJIA&NASDAQ)

Get quote

Live Discussions

Weekly schedule, past shows

E-book

Pulitzer Prize-winning reporting: Uncovering Trump

In February 2016, presidential candidate Donald Trump promised $6 million in donations, including $1 million from his own pocket, to charities along his campaign trail. Months later, he had donated far less than he pledged. Post reporter David A. Fahrenthold went in search of the missing money and found a bigger story than he ever expected.

Diversions

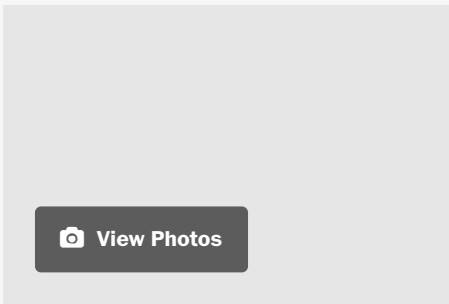

Comics	Eggz
Crosswords	Horoscopes
Mah Jongg	Solitaire
Sudoku	TV listings

From Our Advertisers

Content from Bank of America
How green bonds work

Content from Sub-Zero
Solving the problem of food waste

Content from Rocky Mountaineer
Living wild in the Canadian Rockies

(Zakaria Abdelkafi/AFP/Getty Images)

Here are 26 of the week’s best photos

Politics White House: Trump travels to his New Jersey golf club to ‘save the taxpayer money’After the ‘Winter White House’ in Fla., Trump shifts to ‘Camp David North’ in N.J.Analysis Black and Hispanic unemployment rates have never been below those for whitesAnalysis Why do Tunisia’s Islamists support an unpopular law forgiving corruption?	World In sign of intensifying Somalia fight, Navy SEAL killed during raid against al-ShababMacron’s campaign says it has been hit by ‘massive’ hack of emails and documentsFlynn was warned by Trump transition officials about contacts with Russian ambassadorSecretary of State Rex Tillerson pays his respects to American diplomats who lost their lives	National ‘You and Trump can go to hell’: Assistant principal on leave after argument with teen abortion protestersMany religious freedom advocates are actually disappointed with Trump’s executive orderAnalysis The IRS rarely targets pastors. But a preacher was once arrested – for saying the word ‘fork’Anti-vaccine activists spark a state’s worst measles outbreak in decades	PostEverything Perspective Who gets hurt – and when – if Trumpcare becomes lawPerspective Is the U.S. labor market finally at full employment? Not according to the inflation numbers.Perspective Trump isn’t putting America first. And that’s a good thing.Perspective I was raped. Thanks to Republicans, I could be denied insurance for surviving.
Local A rare look inside the party machine: Va. Republicans look to create new votersAuthorities ID victim of Friday morning fatal shooting in SE WashingtonAudit: Taxpayers may have been overcharged in launch of Md. medical pot programHeavy storms dump 1 to 2 inches of rain, spawn possible tornado in Va.; more to come?	Sports Joe Paterno’s son is now a member of Penn State’s Board of TrusteesNationals place Shawn Kelley on disabled list with lower back strainBryce Harper is not in the Nationals’ starting lineup vs. PhilliesSeverna Park boys’ lacrosse cleans up in regular season finale against Broadneck	Lifestyle Laura Poitras wanted to make a film about WikiLeaks. Then she got pulled into the story.Analysis Rupert Murdoch introduced ‘my friend Donald J. Trump.’ Their friendship is kind of rocky.What is one thing you wish you knew before graduating from college?Perspective Carolyn Hax: Take a cool, calm and collected approach to anger issue	Arts ‘Game of Thrones’ spinoffs are in the works. That can’t be good news for George R.R. Martin’s books.‘Men Without Women,’ a new story collection by Haruki MurakamiReview In the galleries: These are not your usual travel picturesA tenor in his element performs Romantic songs in Vocal Arts DC recital.
			Technology This company wants to build a wireless network for drones, trains and automobilesTesla is deliberately telling people the Model 3 is worse than the Model SFacebook adds 3,000 employees to screen for violence as it nears 2 billion usersWaymo and Uber fight over missing documents in self-driving car trade secret case
Business ‘It is Wall Street porn’: Why Wall Street can’t stop talking about its favorite showAmazon to open a (real-live physical) bookstore in D.C.This company wants to build a wireless network for drones, trains and automobilesRead the latest from Capital Business	Federal Government Perspective Tillerson to staff: State changes ‘really stressful’ but ultimately ‘satisfying’Perspective Trump’s ‘good shutdown’ tweet sullies spending-plan agreementPerspective Trump could save big bucks following report’s recommendationsPerspective Trump’s new VA office to help fire feds faster also could hurt, not protect, whistleblowers	Real Estate A Bethesda Colonial offers home-court advantageMortgage rates are little changed this weekCape Cod house gets update via midcentury modern throwbackIn Northeast Washington, Brookland’s residents strive to save its ‘small-town feel’	