

arts & life

music

politics

6 Strongmen Trump's Praised — And The Conflicts It Presents

From Egypt to the Philippines, the president's praise of despotic and brutal leaders is raising eyebrows. He also has potential business conflicts in or related to all of the countries.

Trump Invites Controversial Philippines Leader To White House

AP Photo/Chris Wedel

programs

shots - health news

Doctors Prescribe More Generics When Drug Reps Are Kept At Bay

PHARMACEUTICALS

Doctors were more likely to choose generic drugs over pricier brand names when teaching hospitals limited access by pharmaceutical sales representatives, a study finds.

podcasts

AP Photo/Chris Wedel

LATEST FROM NPR NEWS

Portland Police Arrest 25, Saying A May Day Rally Devolved Into 'Riot'

THAAD Missile System In South Korea Is Now Operational, U.S. Says

United CEO Called Before Congress To Explain Eviction And Injury Of Passenger

Jam Band Musician Dies On Stage During Birthday Concert

Teen Shot Dead By Police As His Car Was Driving Away, Chief Says

MORE NEWS

LATEST NEWSCAST

Listen · 5:00

CONNECT WITH NPR

Podcast Directory

Email Newsletters

NPR on Facebook

@npr on Twitter

CODE SWITCH

The Fine Print In The 'State of Black America' Report

This year's 'State of Black America' report took the unusual step of warning that the organization now has a new priority: protecting areas of progress from retrenchment during the next few years.

LA JOURNAL

PARALLELS - WORLD NEWS

Vigilantes In India: Protecting Sacred Cows, Promoting A Hindu Way Of Life

Incidents of violence against non-Hindus are rising after Hindu nationalists swept recent elections in India. But critics say Hindu nationalism can't succeed in a country that is 15 percent Muslim.

AP Photo/Chris Wedel

NPR ED

Under Trump Budget, Nearly 2 Million Kids May Lose After-School Care

The Trump administration says there's no evidence the program works, but supporters say that thinking is misguided. Some even call it a "godsend."

Listen · 5:01

AP Photo/Chris Wedel

AROUND THE NATION

Blacklisted For Building Trump's Wall? California Considers It

CAPITAL PUBLIC RADIO

"If you're a business that wants to do work with Trump's proposed wall, then quite frankly, California doesn't want to do business with you," said one lawmaker.

Listen · 5:46

AP Photo/Chris Wedel

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

United CEO Called Before Congress To Explain Eviction And Injury Of Passenger

Oscar Huizar of United Airlines is testifying before the House Transportation Committee about an incident when a passenger was dragged off a flight by security guards to free a seat for an employee.

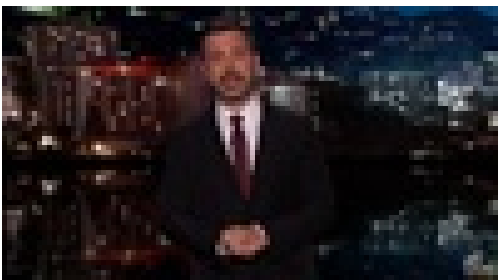

AP Photo/Chris Wedel

United Airlines Settles With Passenger Dragged From Plane

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

Jimmy Kimmel Opens Up About His Newborn Son's Heart Surgery, And Praises Obamacare

"Before 2016, if you were born with congenital heart disease like my son was," Kimmel said in an emotional monologue, "there was a good chance you'd never be able to get health insurance."

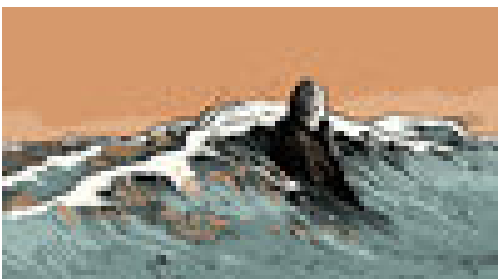

AP Photo/Chris Wedel

U.S.

Veterans At Risk Of Suicide Negotiate A Thorny Relationship With Guns

Researchers are putting guns out of reach reduces the chance that suicidal veterans could take their own lives, but changing the law is a controversial idea.

Listen · 5:22

AP Photo/Chris Wedel

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

U.S. Says THAAD Missile System In South Korea Is Now Operational

The American missile system has caused controversy, partly because President Trump suggested he would charge South Korea for it.

AP Photo/Chris Wedel

TELEVISION

Writers Guild Of America Reaches Tentative Deal With Studios

A historic strike was narrowly averted Tuesday, as a tentative three-year deal was reached between members of the Writers Guild of America and the Alliance of Motion Picture and Television Producers.

Listen · 5:16

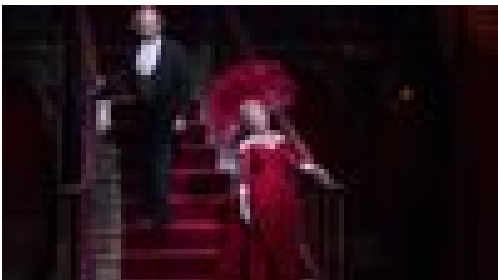

AP Photo/Chris Wedel

HONKEY SEE

'The Great Comet,' 'Dolly,' And 'A Doll's House' Pick Up Multiple Tony Nominations

The Tony nominations are out, and unlike last year, there's no founding-fathers-shaped giant absorbing the oxygen.

AP Photo/Chris Wedel

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

Portland Police Arrest 25, Saying A May Day Rally Devolved Into 'Riot'

"Police lines were set in the street and in garbage cans, a police car was spray-painted and vandalized, and there were attempts to set at least one business on fire," police say.

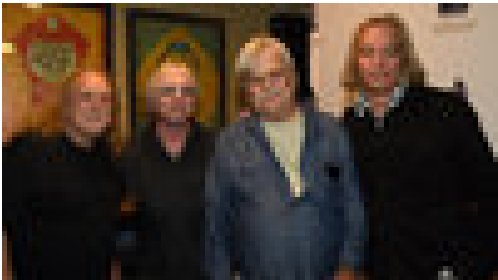

AP Photo/Chris Wedel

May Day Marchers Around The World Celebrate Workers, Immigrants

THE RECORD

Colonel Bruce Hampton Dies After Collapsing On Stage During His Own Birthday Concert

Colonel Bruce Hampton was being celebrated by friends and peers at Atlanta's Fox Theater when he collapsed.

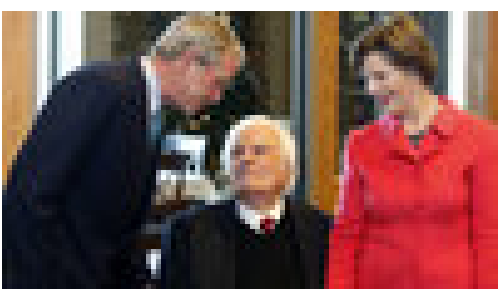

AP Photo/Chris Wedel

NPR thanks our sponsors

Become an NPR sponsor

Why White Evangelicals Are 'Splintering' Politically

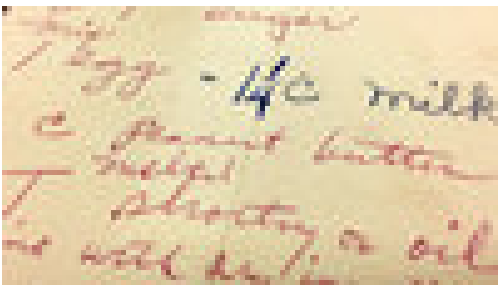

A new book traces the history of white evangelicals in the U.S., from the group's rebellious 19th century roots to its role as political force. We asked the author about where the movement is headed.

Jeff Pendergast

Rosa Parks' Pancake Recipe Helps Us See The Human Side Of A Hero

Parks jotted the recipe down on the back of an envelope. A Library of Congress curator says "this recipe is quintessentially African-American."

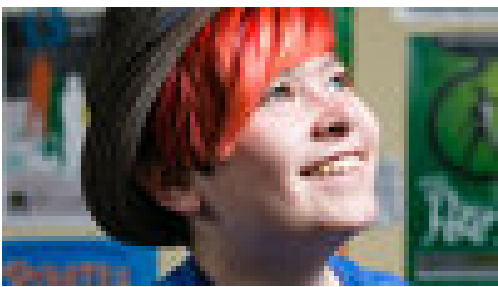

Ken Cedeno for NPR

A New Generation Overthrows Gender

VIDEO PUBLIC MEDIA

Parents, schools and elected officials are working to catch up and adapt to the needs of children and teens who don't fit into familiar gender categories.

Ben Koppelman for NPR

'Indecent': A Play About A Yiddish Play That Was Ahead Of Its Time

A new Broadway production takes audiences through the history of Sholem Asch's 1907 Yiddish playboy of 'Kongenancy' about a Jewish brothel owner whose daughter falls in love with a woman.

David Perlmutter for NPR

Ken Striegel

Fyre Festival Hit With $100 Million Suit; Organizer Says 'We Were A Little Naive'

Admitting they were "unable to realize our dream on the first try," festival organizers are giving attendees the option to forgo a refund and instead receive VIP passes to Fyre Fest 2018.

Luxury Music Experience Turns Into Vacation Nightmare

'Aggressive Yet Sublime': A Looter, Nirvana And The Los Angeles Riots

Gilbert Montemrose was 16 years old during the 1992 riots. He and some friends decided to loot a Pedco department store where he found something unexpected — Nirvana's album Nevermind.

Anthony D'Amico for NPR

Special Series: The Los Angeles Riots, 25 Years On

Airbnb Settles Suit With San Francisco, Aims To Smooth Host Registration

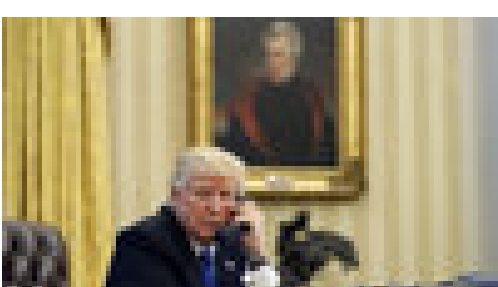

The short-term rental company has had an occasionally fraught relationship with its city of origin. But this lawsuit — which was joined by HomeAway — ended in an agreement lauded Monday by both sides.

David Montemrose for NPR

Fact Check: Could Andrew Jackson Have Stopped The Civil War, As Trump Said?

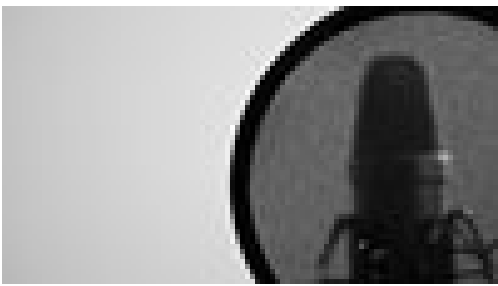

In an interview that aired Monday, President Trump spoke highly of Andrew Jackson, and wondered why more people don't ask why the Civil War happened, asserting the seventh president could have prevented it. Jackson died 16 years before the war began.

Alan Brinkley for NPR

The Modern Newsroom Is Stuck Behind The Gender And Color Line

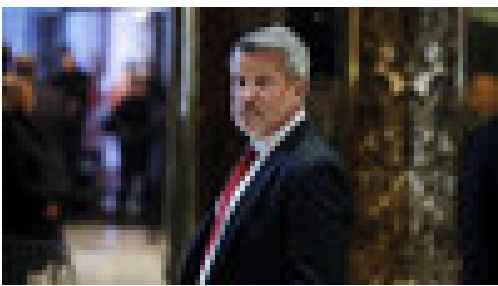

As newsgathering and reporting intensify, diversity, inclusion and representation appear to have flattened in the last decade.

Ben Koppelman for NPR

Fox News Co-President Bill Shine Resigns

Shine's departure is part of the aftershocks of the sexual harassment scandal that has gripped the network since last summer, leading to the exit of former Chairman Roger Ailes and host Bill O'Reilly.

Loren Koppelman for NPR

David Lindvall for NPR

Trump Administration Rolls Back Michelle Obama's Healthy School Lunch Push

The Department of Agriculture is curbing some standards championed by the former first lady, including stricter requirements on whole grains and sodium content. Her Let Girls Learn program will continue, contrary to earlier reports.

more stories

news >

arts & life >

music >

back to top

