

Phoenix Police Announce A Break In The 'Serial Street Shooter' Case

Police say a suspect they've arrested was responsible for killing nine people from August 2015 to July 2016 in a largely Latino neighborhood of Phoenix. Aaron Sanchez, 35, faces multiple charges.

AP

Penn State Student's Hazing Death Was No Accident, Grand Jury Says

Eight Beta Theta Pi fraternity members face charges of involuntary manslaughter over the death of a new pledge in February. For nearly 12 hours after Timothy Piazza fell, no one called an ambulance.

Source: AP Photo/MP

Photo: Getty Images/Chris Wedel

GOP Health Bill Leaves Many 'Pre-Existing Condition' Protections Up To States

KBIA
Before the Affordable Care Act, people with pre-existing conditions often couldn't get health insurance — or paid sky-high premiums. The Republican bill passed by the House last week would let states decide.

Listen - 5:35

Sir Mix-a-Lot On 25 Years Of 'Baby Got Back'

"It was like a blown-out, glorified version of what was actually being said at that time," the rapper says of the butt-positive single that inspired controversy, parody and some genuine gratitude.

Listen - 3:11

Photo: Getty Images

What's Next? Sixth Season Of 'Veep' Probes Post-Presidential Life

Jada Lavin Amfrotis says growing up in Washington, D.C., and later living in Los Angeles helped her prepare for her role in the HBO comedy. "You're selling a brand of yourself," she says.

Listen - 5:00

Photo: L. L. L. Photo

Austrian Court Rules Facebook Must Delete Hate Speech

The decision could have global consequences: The court ruled that the harsh words against an Austrian politician must be deleted from Facebook worldwide.

Photo: Associated Press/Reuters

University of Washington

Life Expectancy Can Vary By 20 Years Depending On Where You Live

Geographic inequality in lifespan is growing in the United States, with people in some counties living more than 20 years longer than those in others.

The Forces Driving Middle-Aged White People's 'Deaths Of Despair'

Trump Travel Ban Returned To Court, With President's Words At The Center

A federal appeals court in Richmond, Va., heard arguments about the legality of President Trump's revised travel ban. Immigrant advocates argue it discriminates against Muslims.

Listen - 3:42

Source: AP Photo/MP

After Decades Covering It, Tech Still Amazes Walt Mossberg

He began covering personal technology in the 1990s, when he says tech columns were written "by geeks for geeks." As he retires, Mossberg reflects on how tech has evolved, often in unexpected ways.

Listen - 7:16

Photo: Reuters/University of Utah Research

Photo: Getty Images/Chris Wedel

Is A Stradivarius Violin Easier To Hear? Science Says Nope

Old Italian violins like those made by Stradivari are famous for their ability to project their sound. But a study found people in a blind test thought new violins projected better than old ones.

Listen - 5:07

A Stolen, Then Recovered, Stradivarius Returns To The Stage

more stories

news >

arts & life >

music >

back to top

