

ON AIR NOW
WHYY

PHOTOGRAPH BY JEFFREY M. HARRIS

POLITICS

Trump Donates Salary To National Parks Even As He Tries To Cut Interior Department

Instead of collecting a salary, the president has volunteered to donate that money to charity. But critics cried foul at his first contribution, including the head of the Sierra Club who called the move a "publicity stunt."

Trump Ethics Monitor: Has The President Kept His Promises?

Change To President Trump's Trust Lets Him Tap Business Profits

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

Justice Department To Review All Civil Rights Agreements On Police Conduct

The order by Attorney General Jeff Sessions and the bid to reassess an agreement in Baltimore may signal that the Trump administration plans to scale back investigations and reopen past deals.

LATEST FROM NPR NEWS

St. Petersburg Bombing Suspect Identified; Death Toll Is At 14

North Carolina Tops Gonzaga In Messy NCAA Championship

Court Rejects Lawsuit Against Mississippi State Flag's Confederate Symbolism

Florida Governor Pulls Murder Cases From Prosecutor Who Shuns Death Penalty

Democrats Have The Votes To Filibuster Gorsuch And Force 'Nuclear' Senate Showdown

MORE NEWS >

LATEST NEWSCAST

Listen - 5:00

CONNECT WITH NPR

Podcast Directory

Email Newsletters

NPR on Facebook

@npr on Twitter

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

North Carolina Tops Gonzaga In Messy NCAA Championship

It was expected to be a fast-paced, competitive showcase for two of the best players in the country, but thanks to tough defenses it became a foul-laden slog. UNC finally pinned the Bulldogs, 71-65.

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

St. Petersburg Bombing Suspect Identified; Death Toll Is At 14

Investigators believe "the explosive device may have been set off by a man whose remains were found in the third car of the train."

OUR LAND

When The Border Is Just Next-Door, Crossing It Is A Fact Of (Daily) Life

The two Nogales — one in Arizona, the other in Mexico — are in separate countries, but to the people who live there, they feel like one place: a border city.

Listen - 4:35

Queue

SHOTS - HEALTH NEWS

Trump Team Urges Skimpier Health Plans To Lure More People To Buy Insurance

KAISER HEALTH NEWS

A rule proposed by the Trump administration would likely raise the deductibles and copays of new policies sold on the exchanges, starting next fall. Monthly premiums would likely be cheaper.

ALL TECH CONSIDERED

How Two Georgia Tech Students Came Up With The Common App For Internships

Students create their profile and can apply for several internships with one click. Currently, InternBlitz is available to students at Georgia Tech, but there are plans to add more campuses soon.

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

Bertha Finally Breaking Through

After a two-year delay for repairs, Seattle's giant tunnel-boring machine is on the verge of completing its mission far beneath the city's streets.

U.S.

Ferguson, Mo., Residents Worry About Low Voter Turnout In Mayoral Election

ST. LOUIS PUBLIC RADIO

Ferguson, Mo., will have its first mayoral election since 2014, when a white police officer shot and killed an 18-year-old African-American. Some worry a slow pace of change will affect voter turnout.

Listen - 3:25

Queue

13.7: COSMOS AND CULTURE

Life Is The Network, Not The Self

The fundamental unit of biology is not the self, but the network — and this view has practical consequences, says David George Haskell, author of The Song of Trees.

POLITICS

Change To Trump's Trust Lets Him Tap Business Profits

President Trump's lawyer said the trust isolates the real estate mogul from his business interests. A document from the trust says he can take out money whenever he wants.

Trump Ethics Monitor: Has The President Kept His Promises?

NPR ED

A New Look At The Lasting Consequences Of Student Debt

Going to college can boost your earning power, but just having student debt can affect your chances of owning a home, according to a new report.

PARALLELS - WORLD NEWS

Why Do Some South Koreans Believe A Myth That North Koreans Have Horns?

Researchers say the belief some South Koreans hold that North Koreans — who are the same ethnicity as South Koreans — are beast-like is a product of years of propaganda and misleading education.

Listen - 4:49

Queue

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

Harrison Ford May Keep Flying, FAA Investigation Concludes

After actor Harrison Ford landed his small plane on a taxiway, rather than a runway, at John Wayne Airport in Orange County, Calif., in February, the FAA began looking into the incident.

AUTHOR INTERVIEWS

Mayte Garcia Knew She Would Marry Prince, But Could Never Have Predicted How

In her new book, The Most Beautiful, Garcia explains how an unlikely meeting at one of the pop icon's concerts sparked a relationship full of love, surprises and, ultimately, heartbreak.

Listen - 7:15

Queue

THE TWO-WAY - NEWS BLOG

The Dust-Up Over Gibraltar: What's The Big Deal About The Little Peninsula?

Anger, frustration, even an unsbtle suggestion of war — there's been some heated talk lately between the U.K. and Spain about a single rock. Here's a primer on what all the fuss is about.

SHOTS - HEALTH NEWS

Carrying Some Extra Pounds May Not Be Good After All

A new study finds that people who are overweight, but not obese, have shorter life spans. It's the opposite of a 2013 study that got a lot of attention by finding a few pounds might be good for you.

Listen - 3:54

Queue

ALL TECH CONSIDERED

How Russian Twitter Bots Pumped Out Fake News During 2016 Election

Clint Watts, a former FBI agent, describes a diffuse network of Russian hackers and propagandists conducting a misinformation campaign that didn't stop with the election of President Trump.

Listen - 4:17

Queue

Sorting Out The Congressional Russia Investigations

GOATS AND SODA

The Big Dreams Of A First-Time Farmer

Faith is an HIV counselor in Kenya, but her salary is low. So this spring, she's planting kale and other veggies in the hope of a cash crop. And learning some life lessons along the way.

MOVIE INTERVIEWS

Documentarian Says 'Anarchist Cookbook' Author Was Filled With Remorse

But remorse and regret are two different things. William Powell's 1970s book contains instructions for making explosives. Charlie Siskel interviewed him for his film American Anarchist.

Listen - 5:31

Queue

more stories

news

arts & life

music

back to top

© 2017 npr