After a tumultuous start, Trump hopes for a smoother agenda on jobs, taxes

But the next few months will not get any easier for the president. While Republicans have control of Congress and set the agenda, they have few opportunities to pass partisan priorities before turning to a series of complicated subjects that require bipartisan action.

Trump invigorates, enchants crowd at Pennsylvania rally

On his 100th day in office, the president had fun in "wonderful, beautiful" Harrisburg, where it felt like last year again with lusty cheers and smiling faces for him. He bashed the bad guys of the media and Hollywood and the swamp he'd just left. And he promised jobs and greatness.

The Take Analysis

Republicans are tethered to Trump politically and need to act accordingly

Midterm losses in the House are the norm for the party in power, and the president isn't helping the GOP's cause.

Grungy, interesting and with plenty of quirk on tap: America's most authentic dive bars

We hit the road to find the diveyest of dives based on these guidelines: They must have history; they must have regulars; they can't be expensive; they can't have craft cocktails. Here are eight bars from across the nation that have risen to the surface.
